Michigan Utility Workers Go on Strike

THREATEN TO CUT POWER IN LARGE AREA

More Than Two Million Homes and Hundreds of Factories May Be Without Electricity

PLAN FOR EMERGENCY

By the Associated Press

A walkout of Michigan utility workers started today threatening to cut off electrical power for more than 2,000,000 residents of industrial lower counties in the state and in hundreds of factories.

Operators of boilers and turbines in the huge Milwaukee plant near Saginaw, which furnishes power for the rich Saginaw valley, remained away from their jobs but the company reported the plant still was operating "as best we can" with the men who stayed on duty.

The strike, by members of the CIO'S State Utility Workers Council, started at 8 a. m. EST after employes threw a picket line around the Milwaukee plant. The walkout also spread to ather Michigan communities and electrical power to private homes and Michigan communities and electrical power to private homes and industries at Muskegon was shut off at 8 a. m. A union spokesman said, however, service would be provided for hospitals, police and fire departments and other essential users.

The utility workers involved in the dispute over a 30 per cent wage increase demand supply power for nearly all of Michigan's major cities outside Detroit, serving communities in 57 of Michigan's 83 counties. Hundreds of factories have indicated continuation of a strike would force them to halt operations.

The dispute by the utility workers was the latest major controversy on the country's labor front. Across the nation the number of workers away from their jobs by stoppages was around 460,000. This number included the 216,000 soft coal miners who because of labor disputes have been away from some 1,000 pitts in six states

Arnold Discusses Use of Atom Bomb

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Atomic bombs turned into guided missiles with wings and a television head can make present anti-aircraft defenses utterly helpless, General H. H. Arnold said today.

The commanding general of the army air forces told senators at a science hearing that in any next use of the bomb it probably would be launched by aircraft outside anti-aircraft range.

Previous witnesses have talked of shooting down the carrier as a means of defense. Arnold's testimony seemed to cancel that.

Arnold said his idea of defense is to create a highly trained modernly-equipped force that will "prevent war and maintain peace."

With such a force—a combination of nations would be needed, he said—"then you don't have to stop it."

President Truman expressed the hope today that there would be no undue delay in the development of a national policy on the use and control of atomic energy.

He told a news conference he wanted congress to have all the information it needs to legislate but hoped for a prompt decision.

TWO KILLED IN FALL OF A SMALL PLANE

Salix, Oct. 18—(AP)—A seven-year-old boy, his father and the boy's terrier were killed when a small plane stalled and plummeted 200 feet into a buckwheat field adjoining the airport in this Cambria county community.

The victims were Oliver J. Westover, 51, of Beaverdale, tipple foreman for the Johnstown Coal & Coke Co., and his son, Oliver, Jr. better known as "Skipper."

The dog was thrown clear of the ship but the humans were pinned inside and burned when the plane burst into flames.

War Casualty Total Placed At 1,169,632

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—A decrease in navy figures brought the war casualty toll down again today to a combined total of 1,069,632 for the armed forces.

This was 521 under last week's count.

The army total, covering casualties reported to the War Department through October 14, is 922,682, an increase of 99 from the previous week. The navy total is 146,950, a drop of 620.

The army casualties this week and a week ago: Killed 208,966 and 207,754; wounded 571,277 and 571,490; missing 19,892 and 21,510; prisoners 122,547 and 121,829.

The navy figures: Killed 55,633 and 55,449; wounded 80,238 and 80,240; missing 9,573 and 9,763; prisoners 1,506 and 2,118.

Year In Army For All Youths Is Predicted

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, pleading for a unified postwar army-navy department, said today the navy neither "consulted nor informed" the army when it made its postwar plans.

The chief of staff told the senate military committee it had been exceedingly difficult during the war to get agreement on conflicting ideas of army and navy leaders.

That's why, he said, a mere continuation of the wartime joint chiefs of staff isn't enough.

Marshall declared the navy department recently sent congress its plans for a postwar navy and marine force, and added:

"The war department has neither been consulted nor informed."

The general declared that under separate commands the war and navy departments would compete with each other in peacetime for congressional appropriations.

The committee, studying the nation's postwar military problems, is expected to get a request from Mr. Truman that every able bodied young man be required to take a year of military training.

The general said in his report that all young Americans ought to be trained for a year to serve their country. He added that this was not universal military service carrying with it actual induction into the armed forces.

Legislators who have talked with the president thought Mr. Truman would leave the way open for training in scientific, medical, vocational and other pursuits that the armed forces can use in wartime.

He probably will suggest enlargement of National Guard and reserve officers' programs.

Hidden Japanese Caches In Precious Metals Found As Move Is Made To Freeze Narcotics

ARMS CONFISCATED

Tokyo, Oct. 18—(AP)—Huge, hidden Japanese fortunes in diamonds and precious metals were scooped up today by American occupation forces, who moved at the same time to stamp out one of Japan's great sources of wealth—the illict narcotics industry.

Allied headquarters froze narcotics stocks in Japan and Korea and banned production of narcotics-yielding plants, estomating by that one move to have cut off more than 90 per cent of the world's illicit narcotics traffic.

As a precautionary measure—possibly in view of the winter of cold and hunger facing the Japanese—American troops in a four-day house to house search confiscated more than 20 truck loads of hidden Japanese arms and ammunitions.

More than $30,000,000 worth of dazzling diamonds—largely government owned and many obtained through deceit of the Japanese people—were discovered today in cheap, quart thermos bottles in a safety deposit box.

While investigators uncovered the rich find, millions of dollars worth of gold and silver bullion began moving in two and one-half ton U. S. Army trucks under armed escort from the bomb-battered government mint to the bank of Japan.

Allied officers found 103 tons of silver bars, which they valued at about $2,000,000, stacked carefully

Nation-Wide Strike Starts In Argentina

Buenos Aires, Oct. 18—(AP)—Nation-wide strike by 500,000 members of the General Confederation of Workers who supported Col. Juan Feron, former vice president, in a new surge to power, today brought nearly to a stop Argentina's industrial and commercial activity.

At the same time a high source said the Argentine high seas fleet had moved out of its base at Puerto Belgrano, 500 mlies south of Buenos Aires.

The strong man of the military government forced the formation of a cabinet of his supporters and friends, and hailed a general

Miners Slow Returning To Coal Digging

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18—(AP)—The great soft coal strike was over by order of UMW President John L. Lewis but it probably will be a week or more before all the miners are back in the pits and coal production is normal again.

Miners await official word from their ranking officers after which it is customary for them to call union meetings and vote on returning to their jobs.

Though miners were told to be back on the job by Monday, many of them were fishing or on vacation trips, and it might be the middle of the week before a majority of the 216,000 idle start digging coal again.

Told of Lewis' order, the Pittsburgh UMW office said rank and file miners "had no grievance" and would return as soon as the mine supervisors, who called the strike, returned.

The coal-starved steel industry, too, welcomed the end of the strike. U. S. Steel Corporation said it would be 10 days or two weeks before it could get back to normal production and reemploy all its 15,700 furloughed employes in Pennsylvania.

Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., with 1,100 idle at its Aliquippa mill, said it would be running full blast again "as soon as possible, the time depending "on how long it takes to get the coal from mines and have it processed."

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, reported it was losing 15,000 tons daily steel production when the strike was called off.

Factory Worker Confesses Butchering of His Companion

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 18—(AP)—Police held on a murder warrant today a factory worker who, they said, confessed butchering the body of his companion and burying the pieces over a wide area.

Detective Chief John C. McCarthy said that 21-year-old Jesse McKethan, confronted with the gruesome discovery, admitted "you've got me, and here is the dope."

Then, the detective said, McKethan readily described how he quarreled and fought with 17-year-old George Luther Ades, a shipyard worker, and tried to conceal his crime when he found he had killed him.

The police did not connect the finding of dismembered parts of a body in various parts of the city with Ades until the boy's mother reported him missing.

The detective chief quoted McKethan as giving this account of the crime.

The two youths went to a roadhouse. When they returned to Savannah, McKethan missed his wallet and accused Ades of taking it. They fought. McKethan left Ades in the street, and went home, two blocks away.

Returning to the scene, he found Ades dead. He carried the body home in Ades car and hid it under the house. The next day he went to work at a bag-manufacturing plant.

That night he removed Ades' clothes and buried them. Then, with a butcher knife and saw, he dismembered the body. The next night he sprayed the pieces with a hose.

He later placed parts of the body in cloth sacks and hid or buried them in scattered parts of the city

U. S. Talks Tougher Than It Acts In German Policy

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The United States consistently has talked tougher than it has acted in the control of defeated Germany, a newly-published policy directive disclosed today.

The directive was the first which Gen. Dwight G. Eisenhower received last April in preparation for establishment of a military government in the part of Germany his forces occupied.

It also was intended to guide the general in working with British, Russian and French members of the Allied control council at Berlin.

Later at their Berlin meeting in July, President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin laid down an Allied policy for Germany which for all practical purposes superseded the earlier directive sent to Eisenhower as an expression of American policy alone.

It is true, however, that on any points not covered by the Potsdam declaration, Eisenhower still may draw his authority from the original Truman order.

In most respects this original order and the Potsdam declaration coincide in spirit of not in actual words. Both state for example that the fact of their defeat must be brought home to the German people.

Both order in effect that Germany should not have a standard of living higher than that of the surrounding countries in Europe, that the development farming as a major German occupation should be stressed and that the industrial disarmament of Germany should reach far down into the Reich's industrial life.

Beyond these instructions, American policy was stated to call for the removal of all active Nazis or other persons hostile to the Allies—not only from public office but also "from positions of importance and quasi-public and private enterprises."

Fraternization was sternly frowned upon in the original order.

By contrast, reports from Germany invariably stay that practically no industrial equipment has been removed from the American zone.

Civic Leader Dies Following Brief Illness

Walter W. Beaty died Wednesday afternoon at Warren General Hospital following a brief illness. In his passing, this community and a host of friends and business associates have suffered a very real and personal loss.

Born at Fagundus, Warren county, the son of Orrin Weston and Ellen Smith Beaty, he moved to Warren with his parents as a small child and has resided here ever since. His paternal grandfather, David Beaty, was among the earlier settlers of this borough, and his maternal grandfather, Chauncey Smith, became a resident of Youngsville over 100 years ago.

After graduating from DeVeaux Military School at Niagara Falls, he later entered Cornell University and was a member of the class of 1897. Returning to Warren he became active in the business of oil and gas production which continued until his death.

His business activities, however, were not limited to this field, and for many years he has been actively connected with the Warren Savings Bank and its successor, Warren Bank and Trust Co., both as director, and in recent years as president of the latter banking house. He was also connected with Warren General Concrete Products Corporation and was vice-president of the company at the time of his death.

He served Warren borough as a councilman during the years 1919-25 and has been treasurer of Warren borough since 1928, and for many years has been a valued member of the board of trustees of Struthers Library building.

A lifelong active member of Trinity Memorial church of this city, he has been a member of its vestry since 1905 and its senior warden for many years. His church activities also extended beyond his own parish and he was one of the board of trustees of the Diocese of Erie of the Protestant Episcopal church. He was also a member of the Conewango Club.

He leaves to survive him, his wife, Grace Cullen Beaty and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Beaty Keelor and Dr. Elizabeth Smith Beaty.

The funeral services will be held at Trinity Memorial church Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock and will be conducted by the Rt. Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, Bishop of the

Dutch Proposal In Indonesia Rejected

By RALPH MORTON

Batavia, Java, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Indonesian National Council rejected the Dutch proposal for partnership in this Netherlands empire today and its Vice President, Dr. Mohamed Hatta, warned that many years of bloodshed and bitter fighting would ensue if the Dutch attempt to rule the colony by armed force.

Hatta held a press conference in the residence of the Indonesian Nationalist President Saekarno a few hours after a fresh series of outbreaks scattered localities had resulted in the death of 15 Netherlanders and Christian Indonesians.

"The Dutch should not remain under the illusion that they can thwart the Indonesian desire to remain independent," Hatta said.

Slaying At Pittsburgh Is Re-enacted

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18—(AP)—With the admonition of his weeping mother to "tell the entire truth" ringing in his ears, William Blader, 18-year-old Pitt student, prepared today for the fifth time to reenact for police the fatal shooting of Frank M. Amberson, 50-year-old Springdale confectioner, Friday morning in Schenley Park.

The reunion between the youth and his mother, Mrs. Rita Blader of Brooklyn, took place last night in Oakland police station where the student had been held since his arrest Sunday morning.

The mother wore dark glasses and kept a handkerchief closely pressed to her mouth while she waited to see her son. She had to be assisted up the stairway. As she left, she was weeping and apparently near collapse.

Police Superintendent Harvey J. Scott said Blader was to be taken over the Schenley Park-Carnegie museum route again today to reenact once more, and in line with his latest statement, what happened in the park last Friday morning.

Scott also announced the suspension of a police fingerprint ex-

25,000-WORD ACCUSATION IS DRAWN FOR PRESENTATION TO WAR CRIMES COURT IN BERLIN

Germans and Their High Command Associates Are Blamed Officially for the Brutal Slaughter of About 10,000,000 Helpless Persons

DRAWN UP BY PROSECUTORS OF FOUR NATIONS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Allied powers indicted 24 German leaders and six Nazi organizations today on charges of starting the world's greatest war and committing history's most horrible mass crimes of murder, torture, devastation and hate.

The leaders named are former key men in Adolf Hitler's government and top generals and admirals of the German high command.

Basically they are accused of a gigantic "plan or conspiracy," dating from 1921, to rule Germany and conquer other lands they wanted. Their strategy: treachery and terror first, finally a deliberate aggressive war.

The 25,000-word accusation was drawn for presentation to the four-power war crimes court at Berlin. It is an unprecedented document; it sums up in cold legal form Allied fury over Nazi outrages, and it forces the men accused of responsibility to answer for their acts.

The bulk of the indictment is a recital of horrors.

The Nazis and their high command associates are blamed officially for the brutal slaughter of about 10,000,000 helpless persons, civilians and prisoners of war.

About 4,000,000 were slain at Auschwitz concentration camp alone, the indictment says, and another 1,500,000 in notorious Maidanek.

Of 9,000,000 Jews who came under domination in and out of Germany, the document asserts, 5,700,000 disappeared.

"Most of them deliberately put to death by Nazi conspirators.

The Nazis and their associates are accused also of:

Of torturing civilians to obtain information,

Of putting civilians under "protective arrest" in the "most unhealthy and inhuman conditions."

Of mass murder of defenseless people by gassing and shooting,

Of incredibly cruel "scientific" experiments on women,

Of drawing the blood of children,

Of shooting hostages, ill-treating and murdering war prisoners and

Of plundering or wiping out by wholesale destruction the cities and towns of lands they occupied.

"American prisoners, officers and men were murdered in Normandy during the summer of 1944 and in the Ardennes in December, 1944," the official document declared. "American prisoners were starved, beaten and otherwise mistreated in numerous stalags (prison camps in Germany and in the occupied countries, particularly in 1943, 1944 and 1945."

The indictment furnished the basis for projected trial of German Nazi and military leaders by the Anglo-American-French-Soviet military tribunal in Nuernberg, Germany. It was drawn up by prosecutors of the four Allied nations, including Justice Robert H. Jackson for the United States. It was released simultaneously in the Allied capitals and in Germany.

The 24 men named as defendants were the highest in Adolf Hitler's Nazi government to be taken alive. Among them are Hermann Goering, Rudolph Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Robert Ley, all key Hitler officials, Generals Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl; Admirals Karl Doenitz and Eric Raeder; Industrialist Gustav Kroupp von Bohlen und Halbach; Financier Hjalmar Schacht.

Against some of them the indictment makes four sweeping, general accusations: (1) crimes against peace in starting the war, (2) war crimes in violation of the accepted laws of war, (3) crimes against humanity which included the Jewish persecutions, and (4) conspiring together to commit these crimes.

After these four general counts are laid down with details of supporting evidence, the names of the individuals are listed together with the specific counts on which each is to be tried.

Organizations indicted are Hitler's old Reich cabinet, the German general staff and high command, the Leadership Corps of the Nazi party, the SS organization (a police and military outfit), the Gestapo (dread secret police), and the SA (a police and military training organization.

The previously announced intention of the prosecution is to prove these to be criminal organizations and that any person legally found to be a member would be convicted automatically as a criminal. Thus the prosecutors hope to shorten the trials of hundreds, perhaps, thousands, of Germans yet to be indicted.

Today's indictment traces the great Nazi conspiracy from the emergence of Hitler as a political leader in 1921, through his election as chancellor of the German republic in 1933 and his suppression of all opposition in Germany immediately thereafter. The Nazi party is described as "the central core" of the conspiracy.

Three aims are are attributed to the Nazis:

1. To destroy the treaty of Versailles and its restrictions on German military power.

2. To regain German territories lost in World War I and other European territories occupied by "racial Germans" such as the Sudetenland, and

3. To acquire "living space" in Europe and elsewhere.

Thus the Nazis—consolidating their power inside Germany through suppression of liberties, persecutions of Jews and other means—progressed to the point where in 1936-39 they took over Austria and Czechoslovakia and invaded Poland, "thus precipitating war with the United Kingdom and France."

It was but a matter of time then until the Allied world, including the United States, was drawn into the conflict.

American entry as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is linked to the German-Japanese-Italian military alliance and to the fact that after Japan struck Germany declared war on this country.

"By reason of all the foregoing," the indictment states, "the defendants with divers other persons, are guilty of a common plan or conspiracy for the accomplishment of crimes against peace; of

$17,232 Reported At First Meeting Of Workers In United War Fund Campaign

The chalk screaked along the blackboard. The adding machine tapped-tapped at the long table. Division by division, team by team, the results materialized from the lips of the captains themselves. After two full days of work, the first report meeting of the 1945 War Fund drive was under way.

When the chalk finished its work, and the last digit had been computed on the realistic adding machine, Chairman E. W. Johnson announced that a total of $17,232 had been recorded toward the goal of $88,700. This admittedly doesn't sound like much, campaign chiefs agreed, but it compares with only $16,582.87 recorded at the first report meeting in 1944 and represents only two days work compared with three days last year when the first report was made on Thursday instead of Wednesday. On the other hand ("Ya gotta look at both sides of it ya know,") there are only seven days to do the entire job as against ten days in 1945.

The meeting was opened with an invocation by A. F. Kottcamp, General Chairman E. W. Johnson, in his introductory remarks, expressed his hope that the results would be the best for the first two doys' work of any of the three War Fund campaigns. "From expressions in the room," he added, "It looks as if we would have a favorable report." Chester Allen, sage of Warren campaigning, stressed the importance of Division B in the final result. "The whole campaign will slip if Ed Ley and his boys fall down," he emphasized. And Ed Ley made no protest, evidently agreeing with this analysis.

John G. Rossman, chairman of the Government Division, made the address of the evening. He pointed out that this is the hardest of all the three war Fund drives; that it takes more self-denial to give in peace time than in the midst of war. He chose as his text the inaugural address of President Lincoln in March 1865. Presenting the famous speech sentence by sentence, he showed how each of the immortal phrases applied to the present situation equally as well as to the days of 1865. Pointing to the official campaign poster with the slogan, "They're still giving—are you?", Rossman emphasized that thousands of service men, the wounded and the disturbed, are still giving and would continue to give throughout their lives, no less than those who lie in graves all over the earth. Concluding his remarks, he said "As you have been generous in times of war, be more generous in times of peace. The crisis is far greater.

Division by division totals were as follows:

Division A, Industrial and Special Gifts: Chairman, H. W. Conarro, C. S. Allen, H. N. Elmquist. Quota $44,432. Results $10,216.

Division B, Commercial: Chairmen, E. H. Ley and B. V. Lesser. Quota $8,000. Results $1,091.50.

Division C, Residential: Chairman, Mrs. R. G. Dawson. Quota $8,000. Results, $2,419.85.

Division D, Chain Stores: Chairman, L. F. Morlock. Quota $1,750. Results, $1,203.25.

Division E, Government and Schools: Chairman, John G. Rossman. Quota $2,500. Results $1,386.

Division G, County Outside Warren Borough: Allen M. Gibson, Chairman. Quota, $24,018. Results $935.25.

Total Campaign: Quota $88,700. Results $17,232.00.

Two Billion Tax Cut Is Favored

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The senate finance committee voted today to cut individual income taxes $2,085,000,000 a year and remove an estimated 12,000,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls.

The senators also agreed to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations next January 1, accounting for another slash of $2,555,000,000 in revenue.

Thus, before acting on proposed excise tax reductions and other odds and ends, the committee in a two-hour session reduced the prospective federal income by a total of $4,640,000,000.

The committee began closed door tax-cutting studies today apparently much more in agreement on business reductions than on how to trim individual tax bills.

STEIN'S

Serious Offense Committed By Boys on Conewango Ave.

Boys of the Conewango avenue and Monroe street section who have figured in many escapades during the past few months last evening overstepped all bounds. The boys were busy throwing stones and bricks at one of the West Ridge buses, which is a most serious offense. Police were called but the boys had all disappeared when the officers arrived. The investigation will be continued for an indefinite period and it is expected that arrests will be made.

One drunk also fell into the hands of the officers and he will tell his story to Justice Greenlund today.

Officers were rushed to the Harriet Bert Shop late last evening when the burglar alarm let go. Search of the premises failed to reveal any person in the vicinity.

Stanley Sturgis during the evening reported to the police that his Bantam car was stolen from in front of the Nazarene church. Whether or not it was recovered did not appear on police reports.

At 11:25 police investigated a small automobile accident at Grant and Pennsylvania avenue. Florence Raffenberger, RD 1 was driving east on Pennsylvania avenue when she crashed into a parked truck operated by Bert Frantz, 311 West Front street, Berwick, Pa., and owned by Nick Dicianni, Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Raffenberger and Mrs. Mary Thompson, 75, RD 1, Warren sustained small cuts on the face.

Betts Machine Shops Will Be Enlarged By An Addition

The Betts Machine Company has broken ground for an addition to their present plant at 1800 Pennsylvania avenue, west. The new building to be erected will be used, in part, to take care of their increasing business in their welding department. It will add considerable space to the machine shop floor, providing necessary space for additional machinery which is expected to arrive in the very near future.

The Betts Machine Company was active during the war, turning out parts for guns and other defense projects. Since V-J Day the personnel has been increased about 50% and the plant is operating on a 50-hour week schedule, 2 shifts, turning out peace time products.

Present production schedules are concentrated on the manufacture of special, custom-built valves, experimental autoclaves, parts for mining machinery and work of special natures in small experimental machines. Much of this work is in stainless steel.

The company operates under a participating plan of sharing profits with their employees. This plan is producing real results in the ability of the company, thru greater efficiency, to better compete in securing new business as well as serve their old customers. A Co-operative group insurance plan, offering the employees accident, health, hospital and life insurance at very low-cost has also been established.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

FARMERS get NO medals, but—

Everyone will agree that the farmers of America have done a great deal toward winning the war. We wish, instead of medals, we could bring every farmer in this community all the things needed to run a farm efficiently. The time is coming when we will be able to do just that. Meanwhile, new things are coming in every day—why not stop in and look them over? EVERTS always has the right price.

NO SHEEPSKINS

For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania State College, graduates numbering more than 100 to receive their diplomas when commencement exercises were held this afternoon. Ships returning from England, source of the sheepskin, are so loaded with veterans and their equipment that the diploma material had to be bumped. The diplomas will be mailed to graduates as soon as they are received and inscribed.

Progress In Celebration Plan Is Seen

All the different committees responsible for the 12th annual North Warren Hallowe'en celebration are busily carrying out assignments, it was stated today by Gerald Rickerson, chairman. There's a tremendous amount of preparation required for this yearly event, sponsored by the North Warren Civic Club, but Chairman Rickerson reports everything is right up to schedule.

The huge indoor carnival being held in the community house the nights of October 31 through November 3 will feature an outstanding bill of entertainment and there will be games galore for old and young. Special prizes will be awarded each evening and the grand climax will come with the awarding on Saturday evening, November 3, of a 1946 Plymouth sedan.

Tickets for the event may be had from any member of the North Warren Civic Club and are also on sale in Warren at the B & B Smoke Shop, Bimber's News Room, Don Finley's and the United Cigar Store.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Firemen had two runs yesterday. One at the Friendly diner, Laurel and Penn avenue where fire had started under a steam table. A section of the back of the diner was ripped off and the fire quenched. Considerable damage resulted in getting at the fire. The second call came last evening at 8:32 when leaves were discovered burning at the home of Wallace Cowden, 19 Fourth avenue. It is thought someone tossed a cigarette into the leaves and set them ablaze. There was no loss.

LINES OPENED

Pennsylvania rail lines west from Warren were opened this morning and Train No. 581 from the east went through. Wrecking crews worked long and hard to get the tracks opened and the debris cleared away for the passage of trains. During the time the tracks were plugged by wreckage the passenger trains were all detoured by way of Oil City and 580 eastbound last night was several hours late in leaving Warren. No freight trains were detoured but were held up until the lines were again open.

SUGAR GROVE

The Presbyterian Sunday school observed Rally Day and Promotion Sunday at ten thirty Sunday morning. The program was in charge of Mrs. Paul Carlberg, superintendent of the Elementary department. Mrs. Allan Frank announced the program which included scripture readings, prayers and singing by the different classes. Martha Ann Grant and Margaret Brown acted as pianists. The Cradle Roll report of Mrs. D. H. Haggerty was read and promotion certificates were presented by Mrs. Carlberg, Mrs. John Stuart and Mrs. Fulton McKay. The service closed with the pastor Rev. C. S. Newsom delivering the sermon.

Mrs. Ray Abbott and family have moved into the house on the Siggins farm formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown, as the home in which they were living on Jamestown street was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Michiels.

Mrs. Laurence Abbott and daughter Kathleen have moved into the home owned by Miss Ardath Chandler.

The Sokol Movement, started in 1862 in Prague by a group of Czech patriots, grew in two generations into a powerful political organization largely instrumental in the liberation of the Czechslovaks from Austro-Hungarian rule.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

When the last team captain, the last worker, had departed; when the big hall of the Y. W. C. A. was deserted except for Henry Candy's battalion of office commandos picking up the pieces; the usual postmortems were held on the results of the First Report Meeting:

Said E. W. Johnson, general chairman: "We're going to have to put forth a lot of extra effort between now and Monday. In sections of the county where there have been industrial layoffs, many people are not giving who did give last year. Other sections willl have to make up for this if we are to reach our goal. But I believe we'll make it."

Said Allen M. Gibson, county chairman: "The condition you speak of exists only in a few sections, not in the county as a whole. From the results I'm confident that in spite of the end of the war, the great majority of people are giving just as liberally as last year. I think that's a good tip for the workers. They should not be satisfied with a reduced gift, but should try to get an amount equal to 1944."

Said Chester Allen, Division A chairman: "We must stress the shortness of time. We have only seven days this year as against ten days last year. This means extra work, redoubled effort. But it also means the job will be done more quickly and, I believe, just as successfully. If every citizen will give the equivalent of 10 hours pay, we'll be over the top."

HOME NURSING COURSES

There is no more direct way for the average citizen to do his or her part in relieving the acute nursing shortage than by taking one of the free home nursing courses offered by the Red Cross, which now has facilities to train 3,000,000 more men and women, according to an article on another page.

Those who take advantage of this free instruction will not only learn fundamentals of bedside care which will be of great value when illness occurs in their families, but will also gain a knowledge of preventive medicine which will help to keep them and their families in good health.

Four courses are now being offered by the Red Cross —the standard 24-hour course for adults; the short course of six lessons; the college level course; and the high school course, which is sometimes combined with home economics or science instruction. Our local Red Cross Chapter willl kindly give you further details on these coaurses.

WALTER BEATY

The community today joins with his bereaved family in mourning the loss of one of the borough's foremost citizens, Walter W. Beaty, life-long business leader and civic boosters, who died at the Warren General Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

In addition to his far-sighted interest in the community and his church those who knew him throughout the years and were privileged to be with and about him had a great admiration for Mr. Beaty's many fine traits.

The world is richer because Mr. Beaty lived in it and the people of this community are richer because he was one of them throughout a long and active life during which they had an opportunity of association with him.

The fond memory of a faithful and self-sacrificing citizen, a kindly friend and good neighbor will not soon be forgotten.

TURKEY DAY NOVEMBER 22

Warren, along with the rest of the state of Pennsylvania, will celebrate Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday of November, the 22d. As a matter of fact all but two states, Tennessee and Arkansas, will observe the same date. They will eat turkey on the traditional last Thursday, which this year falls on the 29th.

The District of Columbia will observe the 22nd as the holiday.

Last year five states, Florida, Idaho, Nebraska, Texas and Virginia, observed the last or fifth Thursday in the month.

The situation is complicated this year as it was last, by five Thursdays in November. But that won't happen again until 1950.

While California hasn't quite made up its mind about this year's holiday, it is expected to observe the 22d.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Oh my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousness, but for thy great mercies.—Daniel 9:18.

Being all fashioned of the self-same dust,
Let us be merciful as well as just. —Longfellow.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"We have only just begun to fight"

We were sitting around Bill Webster's fire the other night, enjoying a mellow glass of beer, and talking—now that the war is over—about what Peace really means.

"I can tell you one thing it doesn't mean," says Bill. "It doesn't mean that we can all relax—and take things easy—and figure we're living in Utopia."

"You're right," Judge Cunningham agrees. "Peace means, among other things, eternal vigilance. Free men are still at war with hatred, prejudice, intolerance—whether it's intolerance of a man's political beliefs, or of his right to choose between a glass of beer or buttermilk."

From where I sit, the Judge is absolutely right. Peace means continued vigilance—continued struggle against all the forces of intolerance that caused the last war, and can sow the seeds of future conflict. Maybe we should paraphrase the slogan of a Revolutionary hero: "We have only just begun to fight."

Penelec To Spend $4,000,000 On Steam Electric Station To Be Erected West of Borough

Officials of the Pennsylvania Electric Company today announced plans for the construction of a modern 30,000 KW steam electric generating station to be located along the Allegheny river two miles west of Warren. Estimated costs of the project are placed at over $4,000,000.

The new station has been designed to incorporate the most modern and efficient steam generating practices known to the electric industry. The plant, a coal burning station, will utilize two boilers to furnish steam at 850 pounds pressure, 875° F. and 370,000 pounds per hour. Water will be drawn from the Allegheny river at the rate of 30,000 gallons per minute for condensing steam from from the turbine. Gilbert Associates, Inc., of Reading, are in charge of design and construction.

Boring operations to determine soil characteristics for the plant foundation were started last week and it is expected that work, such as clearing the site, laying the necessary railroad sidings, and erecting buildings to be used during construction, will get under way next month. When the station is completed in the Spring of 1947, it will increase the generating capacity of Penelec to over 260,000 KW.

In commenting on the new generating station, President P. H. Harris said, "Penelec first started to think of this addition in 1943 shortly after the merger of the Bradford Electric Co., Erie County Electric Co., and Keystone Public Service Co. of Oil City with Pennsylvania Electric Company. The Board of Directors approved the expenditure and preliminary plans were drawn. Although materials were not available, we decided to do as much paper work as we could and schedule the project as No. 1 on our Peacetime expansion program. Projects of this type should do much to enable our suppliers to reconvert in an orderly manner from war to peacetime manufacture."

FARM NEWS

Maintain Milk Quality By Careful Handling

From now until the end of winter, dairymen will have to be careful in handling their milk, to maintain the quality demanded by the consumer.

Too many dairymen try to "air" cool their milk, with the result that cans are often returned to them. It is almost impossible to cool a can of milk merely by setting it out of doors after milking, and expecting the air to cool it. Air is a poor conductor of heat and cold. While a can of milk is being cooled, extremely slowly by the surrounding air, the bacteria that spoil milk grow unusually rapidly.

Air cooling of milk often results in freezing. This disrupts the chemical balance of the milk by breaking down the physical structure of the milk itself. True butterfat samples cannot be obtained from a frozen milk supply.

Hold the milk supply in insulated cooling tanks that are kept full of clean, pure cool water. Do not allow the milk to stand outdoors too long before being picked up by the hauler. To prevent freezing, while milk is being hauled, insist on having milk cans covered with blankets.

DON'T SHOW AGE

The rings of a rattlesnake's tail give little indication of the reptile's age. Rarely is a snake found with more than 10 or 11 rattles. The whip-cracking effect of the tip keeps them broken off, and new rattles are grown at the front of the tail.

ASIATIC DELICACY

The curious Asiatic fat-tailed sheep is raised for wool and the tail, which contains many pounds of fat. The tail is considered by natives of both Asia and Africa to be a delicacy.

RIGID ARMY TESTS

Before trucks are accepted by the U. S. Army, they must undergo rigid service tests, among which is climbing of a man-made "hill" having a 45-degree incline.

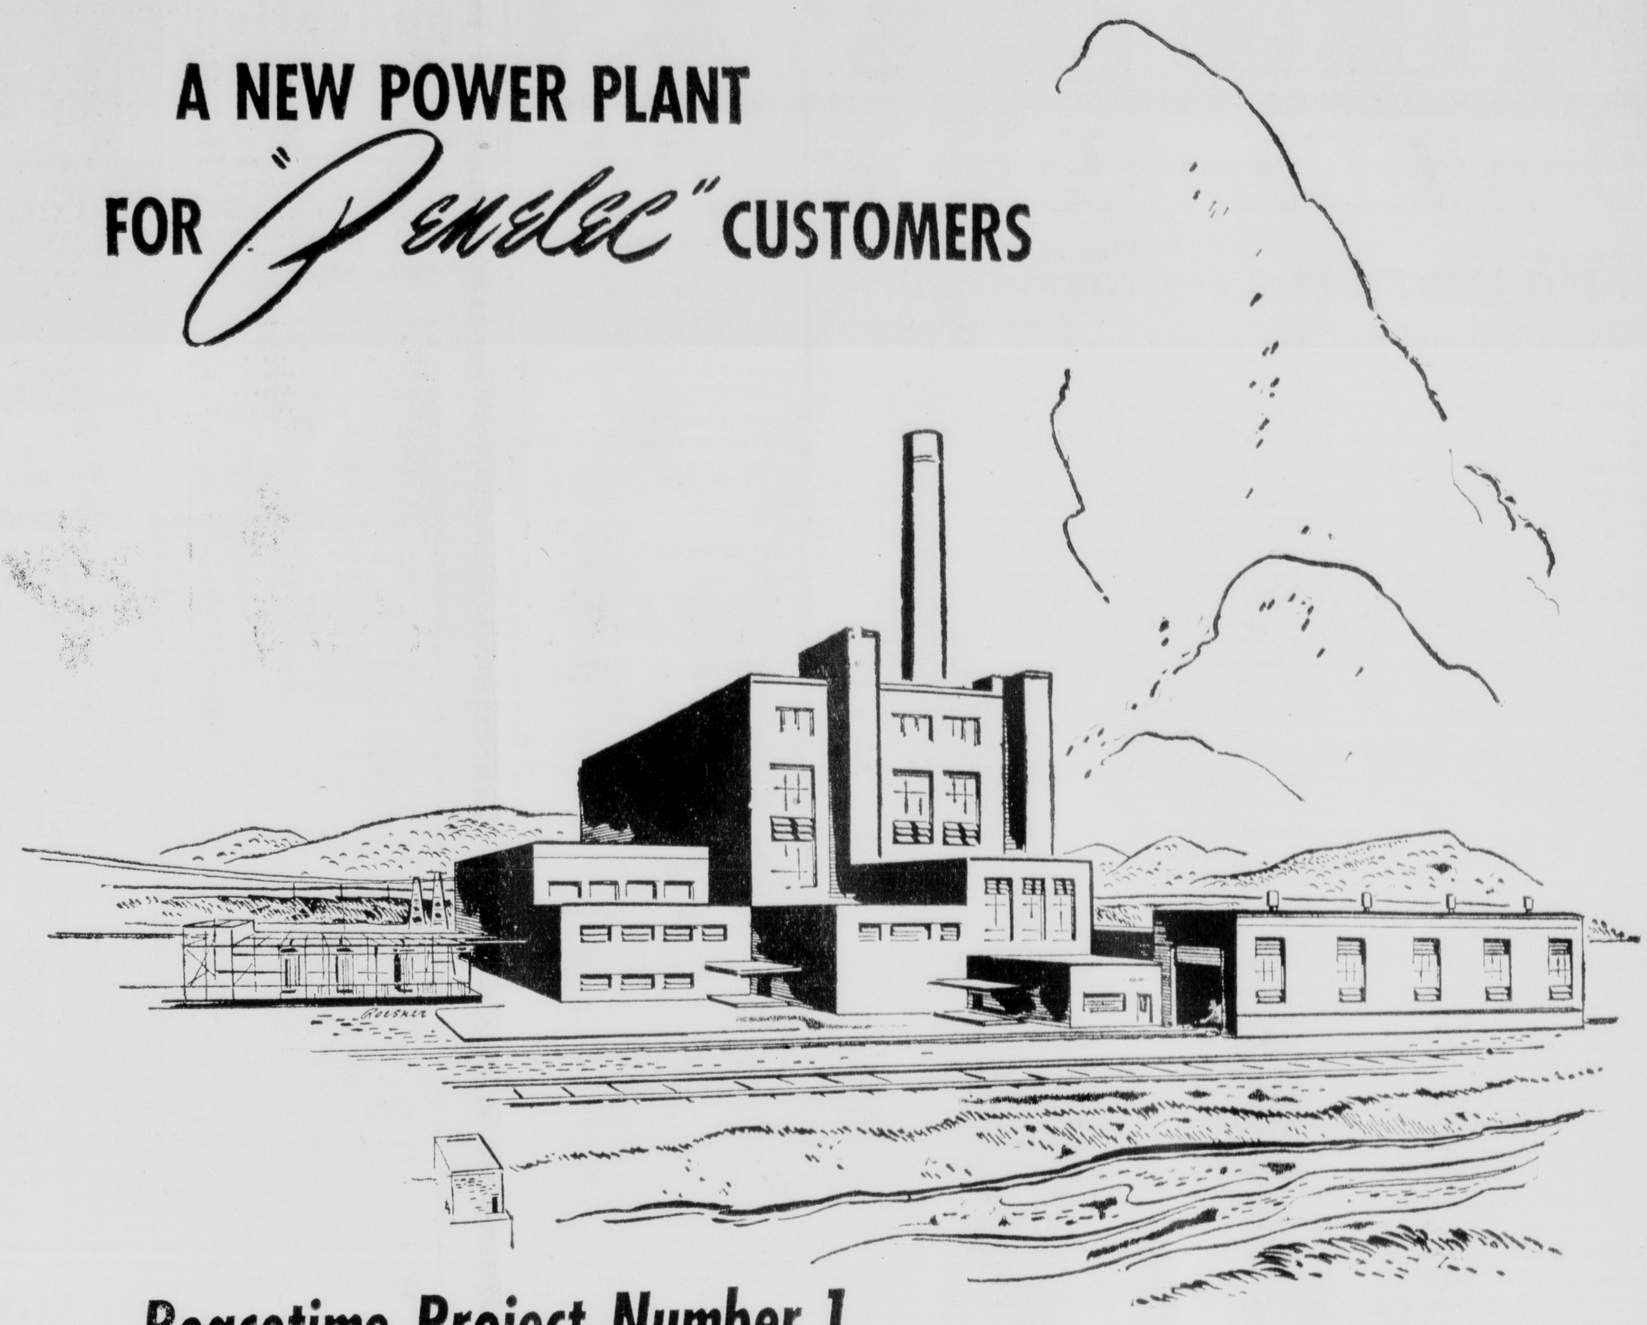
A NEW POWER PLANT FOR "PENELEC" CUSTOMERS



Peacetime Project Number 1

The modern 30,000 KW Steam Electric Generating Station to be constructed at WARREN, PA., by Penelec at a cost of over $4,000,000 marks the beginning of our Planned Peacetime Program. This project, labeled by management as "Peacetime Project Number One," is the first of a series of additions and improvements to be made by Penelec to continue serving you with dependable, low-cost electric service.

Authorized under wartime conditions for peacetime needs, it was given priority on the drawing board over all other projects. When completed in the spring of 1947, it will increase the total generating capacity of Penelec to over 260,000 kilowatts . . . all integrated in power loops to serve almost 200,000 customers from Lake Erie . . . south to the Maryland State Line.

This and other projects scheduled by Penelec reflect our confidence in the future growth of the area served. The man-hours necessary to construct and equip this plant will be an important contribution in the reconstruction period that lies ahead.

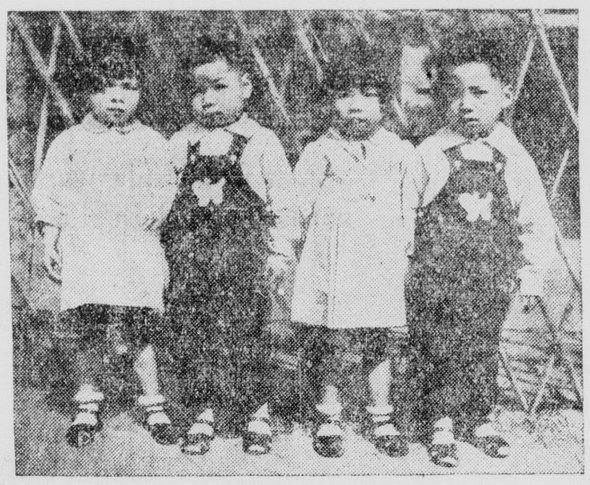
War-Born Chinese Quads Are Aided By Fund from Y.M.C.A.



There is no pressing economic problem in at least one household in South China—that of the "Little Four," United States Chiu, China Chiu, Great Britain Chiu, and Soviet Chiu, China's celebrated war-born quadruplets.

As a result of money contributed through the Y. M. C. A. from United China Relief funds and an annual grant from the provisional government, the four tots and their parents are now living in comparative luxury in their own house in the town of Kukong.

The quartet of youngsters, now seven years of age, was born to Chiu Shek-hoi, wife of an indolent shopkeeper, during the Japanese bombing of Canton. The children were delivered by American doctors as Jap Zeros and Aichi 99s roared overhead. Overjoyed because she was assured by the Americans there would be no charge for the medical aid, the tiny Chinese mother promptly named her children the "Big Four" of the United Nations.

For three years Mame Chiu, after her return to Jap-occupied Canton, struggled to support her family. Then, irked by the presence of the Japanese, she packed up her belongings and moved to Kukong. It was in this town that she and her brood came to the attention of E. H. Lockwood, one of the numerous Y. M. C. A. representatives in the Orient. He and the local relief committee took over.

In time the Y. M. C. A. man raised $500 and Papa Chiu bought a roadside matshed. Then as a result of the 'Y' man's activities the provisional government gave the Chius a house and set aside an annual subsidy for the children. The Chius, according to latest reports, are among the comfortable families of their community, while the quads are regarded as the top sight of the area. So unusual are quadruple births in the Orient, that there is no word for quads in the Chinese language.

Honor Award Is Given To Tidioute Man

A Certificate of Commendation, highest honor award bestowed in Army Service Commands, has been given to Major John T. McCloskey, QMC, by Major General Philip Hayes, commanding general of the Third Service Command. Major McCloskey, native of Tidioute, is director of maintenance at the TSC headquarters at Baltimore and received the decoration from General Hayes in a ceremony held in the latter's office.

Waltz Airs Are Beautiful As Arranged

Mrs. Frank Williams of the Williams School of Dancing has announced the second portion of her program for the dance recital to be given at Beauty School. It would be little short of blasphemous to attempt to impose a "story" on these well known and greatly loved piano waltzes, of famous composers. The choreograph is a purely plastic expression of each vibration of the music.

Overture—Invitation to the Waltz—Weber.

Grand Valse Caprice—Engelmann.

Ensemble: Dorothy Benson, Julia Berdine, Jean Brindis, Mona Jean Brooks, Mary Ella Cable, Riea Dirling, Martha Anne Edwards, Nancy Geracimos, Karlene Gibson, Phoebe Jewell, Marlene Johnson, Mary Alice Morse, Nancy Lee Plummer, Elaine Stone.

Specialties: Nancy Geracimos, 2nd Valse in b flat—Durand.

Riea Dirling and Mary Alice Morse—A Waltz in the Moonlight—Federer.

Karlene Gibson and Phoebe Jewell—(Classical Acrobatic Waltz)—Valse Charmante—Friml.

Martha Anne Edwards—Valse Opus 70 No 1—Chopin.

Mary Ella Cable—Valse in D Major—Glazounoff.

Jean Brindis — Waltz of the Flower Girl—Dennee.

Elaine Stone—Valse Blanche—Friml.

The featured attraction of this ballet is the Adagio done by Mrs. Williams and Betty Gayle Scalise to the Valse Romantique by Federer.

The ballet is brought to a close by the entire ensemble.

All specialties and solos in this ballet are worthy of high commendation. The pupils doing them worked hard this past year to reach their present attainment.

A featured attraction is the classical acrobatic waltz done by the Little Misses Karlene Gibson and Phoebe Jewell.

Kittanning Rite Of Interest Here

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards, of Kittanning, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy J., to Arnold G. Rounds, son of Mrs. Florence Rounds, of Irvine, the double ring ceremony having been performed at 2:30 p. Sunday, October 7, in the First Baptist church in Kittanning. Rev. W. K. Morgan officiated and 50 guests heard the couple exchange their vows. Wedding music was by Elizabeth Klingensmith, Mrs. Walter Anderson and Elsie Cathcart.

Given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. Martha Moissant, of Niles, O., the bride wore brown accessories and a pink rosebud corsage with a powder blue suit, black accessories and yellow rosebuds. The bride's mother chose royal blue velvet for her frock, and the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Maybelle Rhoades, of Irvine, selected black crepe with fuchsia accessories. Each had a yellow rosebud corsage.

David Shobel, also of Niles, was best man.

A reception for 35 guests followed at the bride's home.

The newlyweds will make their home in Buffalo, N. Y., where Mr. Rounds expects to return to his former position with General Motors, Inc. He recently returned from overseas and was honorably discharged on September 17 after 12 months overseas duty in England, France, Belgium and Germany. He was decorated with the Purple Heart and an Oak Leaf Cluster, three battle stars and the Good Conduct Medal. The bride is a graduate of Kittanning High School, Class of 1940, and was formerly employed by Joseph S. Finch and Company, Schenley.

WHY THEY'RE ZEROS

The Jap "Zero" gets its name from the two zeros of its model number, 7-00. Jap planes are known by the last two digits of the year they're made, and the Zero was produced in 1941, which is the year 2600 in Japan.

Business and Professional Women Of District One Hold "Victory" Meeting

Six clubs of District One, Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women, attended the Victory meeting held in Youngsville High School auditorium, representatives registering from Youngsville, Warren, Erie, Union City, Meadville and Corry.

Katherine Carpenter, of Jersey Shore, as state president, headed the list of distinguished guests. Others were Mrs. Helen Schluraff, Erie, state treasurer; Agnes Painter and Alice Kemp, Meadville, editor and business manager, respectively, of "The Key", state publication.

Goldia Hill, district chairman, conducted the afternoon business session, when reports were given by Idah Ross, district treasurer, and A. Callie Mead, Warren, corresponding secretary, who also acted as rcording secretary in the absence of Mary Dickson, of Greenville. Club presidents were called upon to give reports of their activities and plans for the season. The following from the district were elected to serve on the nominating committee for state convention: Augusta Bolin, Erie; Mary Dickson, Greenville; Beatrice Woodard, Meadville; with these persons as alternates: Cloie Mead, Youngsville; Ruth Karr, Warren, and Agnes Lynch, Corry.

E. C. Stillings, supervising principal of Youngsville schools, gave a fine talk on the problems of the atomic age and international affairs. State and district officials and club presidents assembled in a council session at the adjournment of the afternoon meeting.

The banuet and evening session were held at Pittsfield Inn, with 75 attending and Mrs. Carpenter speaking on "The Open Door". She stressed opportunities open for business and professional women in the post-war reconversion period, giving as example important positions women held in national, state and local affairs.

Toastmistress Matilda Kamber introduced the various numbers in appropriate verse, Youngsville's president, Gertrude Ostroski, giving the welcome and Agnes Lynch, Corry, district vice chairman, the response. Group singing was led by Adelaide De Maison, Meadville, accompanied by Roberta Lodge, Youngsville. Marge Hendrickson, Youngsville, entertained with two violin solos, Miss Lodge accompanying.

The Youngsville Club is to be congratulated for its fine meeting and all present were urged to attend the state convention to be held at Lycoming Hotel, Williamsport, May 17-18-19, 1946; also the national convention in Cleveland July 7-12, 1946.

Sixteen members were present from Warren, including Ruth Karr, Louise Neily and Callie Mead, delegates.

Aids All Charities

The bandage-making program is history, the blood bank is closed with an al-time record, and the energies of women are being reconverted along with other agencies of productiveness. If the women of Warren want to serve with a minimum of effort which will leave them free to devote more time to all the unfinished business for which the women of America are responsible —volunteer to aid the Needlework Guild of America. Known as the "charity which helps all charities", the Guild asks of its members only that they give two new articles of clothing or household linens each year. Directors must collect 22 items and an unspecified sum of money to be included or continued in that category.

The Warren branch of the Guild has set Friday, November 2, as its annual Garment Collection Day, when articles will be displayed at the Woman's Club from three until five, and Mrs. T. I. Donaldson and her committee will serve a cup of tea to all comers. True, the war has ended, but agencies who receive the articles given to the Guild have had no let-up in demands for their services, and it is hoped that the increase that has marked donations right through the war years may be continued and topped this year. Directors will have a tray lunch at the YWCA at noon tomorrow to hear reports of the visiting nurses, state nurse, Warren Relief and Children's Aid on the type of articles most needed in their work this fall. Names of 43 directors will be announced within a few days and they will appreciate your getting gift articles to them promptly.

Prep Club Hayride Proves Successful

With the cooperation of the weather man, about 100 boys and girls of the PAK "Prep" Club enjoyed a hayride party to the Hemlock community house last evening. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Tritt were the adult supervisors.

Dancing was enjoyed, with an added treat provided in the appearance of four senior boys, Bill Blair, Dale Soderburg, Don and Bruce Wood, who brought instruments to form a small orchestra and added much to the pleasure of the dancers.

Al Marrer, as chairman for the evening, was in charge of a brief business session and Jack Warner secretary, read the minutes. Allan Schuler and Lorna Mae Hulings were appointed co-chairmen for next month's event.

The organization has asked the Times-Mirror to publicly express its appreciation to Kenneth Lawson for providing transportation for the party.

OPENING SERVICE OF ANNUAL CONVENTION

Rev. G. Woerner was the speaker last evening at the opening service of the annual missionary convention at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 705 Conewango avenue. He spoke of the work on the island of Borneo, illustrating his message with colored slides depicting the life and customs of the Dyak people. He told how these former headhunters, when converted to Christianity, gave up their sinful and superstitious ways, built churches and many of them went to Bible school to prepare themselves to evangelize their own people. It was on this island that a number of the missionaries of the society were killed by the Japs and others died in internment camps.

Tonight, Mrs. H. Koenigswald will deliver the missionary address, followed by a Bible message by Rev. H. F. Meltzer. Mrs. Koenigswald represents West China and Tibet, having worked along the border for a number of years. She lived through one Moslem rebellion and a famine and will have many interesting experiences to tell.

The convention will continue each evening through Sunday.

Cornplanter Gun Club Is Well Improved

Members of the Cornplanter Gun Club, some of the most enthusiastic sportsmen of the county, are at work improving their club house in Glade township and making it larger and more commodious. The club house, which formerly faced the west, has been swung around until it now fronts to the east. The big veranda has been placed in fine shape and affords a most beautiful view of the lands to the east.

The job of turning the club house around was a big one but the members work lustily and have accomplished a good job.

Work of adding an addition to the rear is now under way and it is hoped by the members that all of the work will be accomplished and in ship shape before cold weather sets in when the club house is used extensivedy by the members.

Harrisburg, Oct. 18—(AP)—The U. S. Civil Service Commission has directed that $11,000 be deducted from federal loans and grants to the Pennsylvania Board of Vocational Education for failure of the commonwealth to remove Tom E. Williams as a state official.

The federal commission gave the order yesterday in Washington to the Federal Security Agency as a development in charges of violations of the Hatch anti-politics act it filed against the late Dr. A. Beyond Tomorrow

By Helen R. Woodward

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 7

THE question hung suspended in the air between them. Anne's heart began to beat again after a moment, quiveringly startled. Wayne released her arms and stood before her, pleading his case.

"Oh, I know it's an awful thing to ask a girl—when we can't be certain of anything beyond tomorrow! But, oh, darling, I want you so! I want to know that you're—my wife!" His voice grew tender on the word.

Anne began to breathe excitedly. "But Wayne—can—could we—so quickly, I mean?"

"You mean—you'd even consider it?"

"Well, I—Wayne, I love you—!"

The words seemed so inadequate to describe the fiery, burning white flame that was coursing through her veins.

"And I love you, little darling! So that's all that is necessary, isn't it? Look precious—tomorrow we'll attend to all the preliminaries, then we can get married the day after. And that will leave us two whole days for a honeymoon!"

"People will say we're crazy!"

"Sure they will, but what do we care what people say?"

WHEN Wayne had finally gone home, having arranged to meet her on the morrow to perfect their plans, Anne fairly flew up to tell Eve the news. She burst into the room without thinking to find Eve curled up in bed fast asleep, the letter from Garret folded close against her heart. At the sound of Anne's noisy entrance she opened her eyes.

"Oh, darling," Anne cried in quick remorse, "I'm so sorry to disturb you—when you haven't slept for weeks! I should be murdered and cut up in little pieces! But—but oh, Eve! Now that you are awake, I—I may as well tell you! I—I'm going to be married!"

Eve sat up and blinked at her stupidly for a moment. "Pardon me, Anne, but I could have sworn that you said you were going to be married!"

Anne fell on the bed, convulsed with helpless laughter, trembling all over. "You know darn well that's what I said!" she cried. "And oh, Eve! I'm so excited I could just—just about die!"

Eve bent over and kissed the trembling lips, a look of anxiety in her own eyes. "Anne," she spoke seriously, "be very sure!"

Anne's eyes were full of dreams. "Oh, I am! So very, very sure!"

There was an unfathomable look in the depths of Eve's dark eyes, a look which Anne did not even notice in her excitement. "Then I'll say bless you darling," Eve said quietly. "Only,—only, Anne, you're such a baby! I hope—I hope you're not letting yourself in for anything like heartbreak!"

THE next day Wayne came dashing into the office, his face aglow, his voice high and excited. "And how is the future Mrs. Wayne McDowell?" he beamed.

Anne saw Lola Chester's eyes growing ever wider behind the thick lenses of her glasses. Jane Thomas stopped in the middle of whatever she was filing, her mouth wide open.

"Sh!" she warned, trying to disengage the hand that Wayne was holding possessively. But he was not to be repressed.

"I won't be shushed, madam! I now take great pleasure in informing you, Miss Chester," with an elaborate bow, "and you, Miss Thomas, and the whole cock-eyed world in general that you see before you the future Mrs. Wayne McDowell! I hope all this meets with your approval, my dears!"

Anne giggled as she saw Lola gulp in astonishment. Then she felt her spine tingle as at the moment she observed Mr. Farham standing in the doorway to his private office. He was not smiling.

"Wayne, is it necessary for you to make so much noise and disturb the workers in my office?" he asked stiffly, then added, "Suppose you and Miss Winslow step inside. There seems to be something we must discuss."

Anne thought in dismay, "I feel just like I did once at school when I was called into the principal's office! It's absurd to feel guilty about this. Mr. Farham's bound to know soon. But I wish Wayne hadn't been so hasty!"

MR. FARHAM took his seat behind the heavy desk and Anne and Wayne stood on the opposite side of it—"like prisoners at the bar of justice," Anne thought. After a moment Wayne lighted a cigarette and sank onto a corner of the desk, as Mr. Farham motioned Anne to the chair in which she sat to take dictation.

"I think I understood correctly that you referred to this young woman as the future Mrs. Wayne McDowell, did I not?"

Wayne had not lost one iota of his easy assurance. He seemed a little amused that Anne appeared flustered. "Right you are. Uncle Nathan. I suppose you're ready to give us your blessing?"

Mr. Farham was silent for a moment, his white brows drawn together, his hands moving mechanically among the papers on his desk. Then suddenly his keen gaze met Anne's and she thought she detected a twinkle in the blue depths of his eyes. And in that moment she knew that whatever the reaction of Wayne's other relatives might be, she had an ally in her employer. He turned now to Wayne.

"I suppose you know she's much too good for you?"

Wayne smiled. "Certainly, sir."

Mr. Farham got up and came around the desk to stand in front of Anne. When she rose he took her hand. "You've been with me how long, Miss Winslow?"

"Almost two years."

Mr. Farham coughed a little nervously. "Shall I tell you what I've thought many times in those two years as I've watched you, my dear?"

"Please do, Mr. Farham."

"I've said to myself—why can't that nephew of mine pick out a girl like that instead of one of the little flibberty- gibbets he runs around with? Of course you have my blessing, and good wishes, Anne—and to you, Wayne, heartiest congratulation! Er—my boy—er—have you told your Aunt Edna?"

Wayne put his arm around Anne. "Indeed I have sir. And she has invited us to come to tea at five this afternoon. She wants to lose no time in becoming acquainted with my future wife!"

OCD Material Here Checked By Officials

Work of compiling a list of the OCD equipment which was issued to Warren during the time danger of bombings existed in this country is underway locally. Much of the equipment, such as arm bands, helmets, etc., will undoubtedly never be returned to the state as it is widely scattered. The same applies to the pumps which were issued. Only about one-tenth of the number distributed have been returned to the city building, where they are being stored. The largest items such as fire pumps, hose, ladders, etc., will doubtless all be available as most of that material is stored at the Central Fire Station.

The State Hospital and North Warren fire department is anxious to buy some of this fire fighting material and Burgess Ray Steber is at work on this project. Warren borough will have to make the purchase and in return sell it to the hospital and North Warren. This work is under way at present and will doubtless soon be completed.

Dispatches from Harrisburg are to the effect that some of the $19,000 worth of the defense equipment eventually will be sent to the Netherlands East Indies. Medical supplies, beds and the other material stored through most of the war in the state capitol at Harrisburg is already packed and crated ready for shipment to the South Pacific.

The state received approximately 1,400 of the fire pumps which would have been used in event of emergencies and they are being disposed of directly through Washington.

The OCD in this state has folded up and Monday in the governor's office at Harrisburg ceremonies were held that brought the salvage commission work to a close.

Two Smallest Schools Have Best Record

Two of the school district's smallest buildings, Home and Seneca, were the only ones to reach 100 per cent participation in the October 8 report of war bonds and stamps turned in to the office of Superintendent John G. Rossman.

Total of all buildings for the same period fell far below the average the schools have been maintaining, amounting to $443.30, of which $11.05 was in the high school. School savings totals for the period amounted to $254.83, which, with sales totals brought the grand total to $698.13.

The buildings, with savings, sales and totals, in that order, show the following figures:

Conn Refuses To Sign For Summer Bout

By SID FEDER

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Mike Jacobs is a New Jersey tulip grower with an ambdextrous ability as a fight promoter.

And today he was busy with both hands.

With one, he was shoving a pen into Billy Conn's dainty "Duke," trying to get the Pittsburgh pretty boy to forget his "beefs" and sign on the dotted line for a return go with Joe Louis. With the other, Mike was holding an "auction" over the site of the Louis-Conn nose-mashing.

With this left-handed job, Uncle Make was trying to tell you how the $3,000,000 taffy-pull next June would go to the place "we'll get the most money." He carefully explained how Philadelphia and its huge Municipal Auditorium and Chicago and its wide stretches of Soldier Field were running neck and neck for the big pot, and he was open to all offers.

But around Jacobs' beach, the wild waves were saying that the windy city would have to put up the loop and the city of brotherly love would have to give up Billy Penn from off the top of the City Hall to get this tussle out of Yankee Stadium, N. Y., when post-time rolls 'round.

As for getting Conn to sign up for the fuss, Mike had a session lined up today with the legal member of Billy's fistic family, as a follow-up to the hour-long howling party he had with Billy's manager, Johnny Ray.

Johnny, making hih first New York Aappearance since Billy was belted out by Joe in the 13th round in June 1941, told Mike the contract, as far as he was concerned, was about as valuable as watered oil stock. His chief objection was to the clause that said the late army corporal couldn't have any exhibition or tune-up appearances before the big beak-busting party.

Giants Boast A-1 Shortstop In John Rigney

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Unlike most major league club owners who would like to have the services of Marty Marion, termed the "Mr. Shortstop" of baseball, President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants is not interested in the St. Louis Cardinals' star.

"We're ready to pay any reasonable sum for any player that would help our club," said the Giants boss yesterday, as he escorted a group of writers around the Polo Grounds which is being revamped for next year, "but I believe we are going to come up with a shortstop who in a few years will be every bit as good as Marion."

"His name is John Rigney," continued Stoneham, "and we obtained him from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League in the deal that sent Dolf Camilli to manage the Oaks in 1944. Rigney, at the time, was in the navy, and still is. Next to the return of Johnny Mize, the biggest boost our club could get would be Rigney's release." Mize was recently released.

Stoneham figures that with Mize at first, Rigney at short, Buddy Kerr at third and Mickey Witek back at second base plus a strong outfield headed by Manager Mel Ott, Babe Young, another recent dischargee, and Willard Marshall, now in the marines, all the Giants need to be in the running for the 1946 pennant are two top-flight pitchers and a dependable catcher.

Behind the Lines

(The following letter is written to the editor, but it is being used in this column because of its relationship to athletics and school. We would appreciate the suggestions of all our readers.)

Oct. 17, 1945.
Warren, Pa.

Editor, Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I have been reading with much interest the articles appearing in the Times-Mirror and the Jamestown Post-Journal concerning the incidents of alleged vandalism and hoodlumism supposedly perpetrated during the pep rallies and pre-game demonstrations of the annual Warren-Jamestown football classic.

To me, and to many others who have not forgotten that we were once imbued with the spirit of youth, both papers have committed a "faux pas." I should not permit my anger to burst into heated flame, as I, too, may commit errors in this trade against such powerful weapion as the press. 'Tis not the paper—but the writers of the articles who should be made to make some sort of apology to the subscribers for distorting facts in attempting to write a sensational story.

It would necessitate too much valuable space in your good paper to trace the entire chain of events they unfolded from Thursday evening, October 11, until last night, so I'll' not elucidate at length.

From the article published in the Times-Mirror of Friday, October 12, in which many of the incidents were exaggerated, the Post-Journal was motivated to publish the following under the sensational heading: "Students 'Stir' Officials." From the article the following excerpts are gross exaggeration:

(1) "Both cities were the scene of disturbances of riot proportions, with broken plate glass, scattered garbage cans, overturned water hydrants, and general riot-type damage." Where in Warren were any plate glass windows shattered? Would someone please show me the "overturned water hydrants?"

(2) "Police chief G. Harry Nelson said today when informed of the Warren celebration which caused the girl's injury from a piece of flying glass."

It wasn't flying glass—it was a tomato, and I didn't throw it. I took time to investigate.

(3) "A riot detail of Warren police were called out Thursday night and some 18 carloads of Jamestown celebrants were herded out of that borough."

The Warren police department has informed me that "about five carloads" were hailed—and further riot squads in Warren police history are myths.

(4) "Main streets were a litter of broken window glass and a water fountain in front of the J. C. Penney store was broken from its foundation. Water gushed from the ruptured pipes and pouded into the basement of the store, damaging a considerable amount of merchandise, before a shut-off could be affected. A one-cent scales was removed from in front of a store building, wrecked and carried several blocks."

In a telephone conversation with Mr. Pettit of the Penny Company, I learned that the facts were "exaggerated slightly." The scales are to be replaced. The mechanism on the fountain was broken. The fountain was not broken from its foundation. No merchandise in the cellar was damaged. Most of the inconvenience was caused by failure of the boiler to function properly.

(5) In Frank Hyde's column appearing in the Post-Journal of Monday, October 15, he states that "windows were smashed and two cars were overturned." As far as I have been able to ascertain, no such occurrences took place in Warren.

(6) From last night's Times-Mirror editorial taken from the Post-Journal: "All the remorse of those who took part in these incidents cannot restore the sight in the eye of the unfortunate girl from Pennsylvania."

The young girl, who was struck by a tomato in Beaty court where the school officials decided the pep rally was to be staged, HAS NOT lost the sight of her eye and the injury is far from as serious as the writers have depicted.

This is not written in an effort to uphold acts of vandalism—far from it. As a law-abiding citizen, I firmly believe that rowdyism should be curbed and offenders dealt with to the full extent of the law. However, I also believe that reporting of such incidents should contain more accuracy—and I think some place in the newspaperman's creed there must be something concerning reporting the facts.

Too many people are gullible—believing everything they read. The papers have done a swell job in disseminating a "sensational story" decidedly unfair upon an unsuspecting public.

This is on expression of my feelings, and I'm positive of numerous others who I have engaged in conversation. It is my sincere desire that this is published and in some way brought to the attention of the Post-Journal.

Very truly yours,
"A citizen".

Elmer Leyden Sees Peculiar Season Ahead

Chicago, Oct. 18—(AP)—Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football League, reviewing the first few weeks of the 1945 season, said today that all 10 teams reported increased season ticket sales. He also asserted, "it may be that we'll see a champion crowned that has lost three games."

"The league is going through a process of war time to postwar adjustment," Layden asserted. "As I see it, the strength of the teams will continue to fluctuate from Sunday to Sunday. Players coming back from service are making their presence felt.

"Not only have all the teams individual strength and ability to knock off top teams, but the balance of power will be shifting. New York, the 1944 eastern champion, already has a tie against its record. Green Bay, the western and league champion, has suffered one defeat. The Chicago Bears, runners-up in the west last season with Detroit, have dropped three games. The Chicago Cardinals, who won no games last year, have won one and are rapidly improving.

"Philadelphia, which won all its non-championship games and was the eastern favorite, has been beaten. Washington, second in the east last year, was beaten in its first game this season by Boston, a club which won only two games in '44.

"This is going to be quite a season before it's over!"

Boxing Promoters Will Back Fights Over Nation

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Boxing promoters in seven cities stretching from Boston to St. Louis have joined up in an outfit to "give financial and publicity aid" for fight shows throughout the country, and to foster what the organization announces will be "class A boxing in America."

Larry Atkins, Cleveland promoter and president of the new "Boxing Promoters of America, Inc.," said promoters in Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo (N. Y.), Cleveland and St. Louis have joined the organization.

Football Halted At Forty Fort H. S.

Scranton, Oct. 18—(AP)—Forty Fort High School, near Wilkes-Barre, will play no more football games this season under jurisdiction of District 2, PIAA.

The scholastic athletic group voted last night to suspend Fort Fort from gridiron participation as a result of a riot which followed the Pittston-Forty Fort game last Friday. Three officials were beaten by spectators.

The first "Flying Fortress" was built in 1935.

LEWIS ACTION MAKES PRESIDENT HAPPY

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—President Truman said today that he was very happy that John L. Lewis had called off the soft coal strike.

Asked his reaction, the president told a news conference that the United Mine Workers leader had said he had called off the strikes in the public interest.

In any event, Mr. Truman said, it made him very happy. If everybody would work in the public interest, he said, he would have very little trouble.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear wife, Florence Marks Wright, who departed from this life one year ago today, Oct. 18, 1944.

From this world of grief and sorrow
To the land of peace and rest,
God has taken our dear Florence
To a home which is the best.
Days of sorrow still come oer us,
Hidden tears do often flow,
Memory keeps our loved one near us
Tho she died one year ago,
It is lonesome here without you
There is such a vacant space
For we never hear your footsteps
Oer see your smiling face
As we loved you so we miss you
In our memory you are dear
Love remembers long for always
Bringing many a silent tear.

Husband Wallace Bud. Wright
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wright.

The fortune in diamonds, totalling 131,000 karats in weight, was found in the Mitsui Trust Company vaults, deposited in the name of a Japanese government Import and Export Control Agency.

Many of the diamonds had been contributed by civilians who were told they were needed for industrial usage.

Prisoners of War Will Be Shipped By Early Springtime

All enemy prisoners of war held in the United States are expected to be on their way to their homelands by early spring providing a source of labor for the reconstruction of the wrecked European cities. The provost marshall of the U. S. Army estimates the number of prisoners held in this country in 1945 was 362,170 Germans and 49,784 Italians along with 5,080 Japanese. This does not include 12,500 prisoners who have been shipped back to Europe since V-E Day.

Most of the prisoners have been employed in various sections of the country. In the south the POW's picked citrus fruits, cotton, cut sugar cane, tobacco and cut pulp wood. In this section the prisoners were engaged in woods work and cut thousands of cords of pulp wood which was converted into paper and roofing.

In the west they harvested sugar beets, corn and grain, picked and packed fruits and vegetables, while in the north and east they cut pulp and chemical wood, harvested and packed fruits and vegetables.

In addition to this work, which was mostly on a contract basis between the government and private agencies, prisoners also worked for the army at bases and camps.

Although paid at the prevailing wage level for civilian workers doing the same type of labor, the prisoners working on private contracts receive only 80 cents a day. They are paid in coupons redeemable for goods at camp canteens.

The remaining money earned by the prisoners is paid to the army and deposited in the treasury.

Through 1944, $22,000,000 was deposited with the treasury. The total of such deposits was $38,000,000 up to June 1, 1945.

In addition the army estimated it saved $152,000,000 in wages by using POW help in camps.

Prisoners are housed in 150 camps located on army bases, and at 300 branch camps set up wherever the prisoners are working.

The POWs housed at bases live in compounds, usually an unused section of the camp's barracks. However the branch camps vary from tents to abandoned schools or buildings in the vicinity of their work.

When they are ready to be shipped home, the POWs are moved into a staging area near their port of embarkation. Then they are loaded in most cases, aboard army transports headed for Europe to bring Americans home.

Together with other prisoners taken after the capitulation of Germany, the POWs will be assigned to various types of reconstruction work in Europe by the manpower division of the Allied control council.

The provost marshal's shipping, lessened needs for POW labor in the United States, and better facilities in the European theater to handle them, the return of all POWs in the United States will be materially stepped up so as to have them all returned by spring.

WHAT IT MEANS

By HERMAN R. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Codes, the old stand-by of the spy thriller, have been top news recently.

First it was disclosed that Japanese Admiral Yamamoto's plane was shot down because American Intelligence had broken a Japanese code. Then a magazine writer declared that we had cracked a Japanese code before Pearl Harbor and could have prevented that disaster.

A code is usually composed of words or jumbled groups of letters or numerals that stand for a word or phrase, or perhaps a whole order. It is distinct from a cipher.

A cipher is composed of individual letters or numerals. Each letter or numeral stands for a single letter.

In one type of code the word "horse" might stand for "battleship," the word "desk" for "cruiser" etc. In another, "battleship" might be represented by "AAAAA" and "cruiser" by "AAAAB." Or you might use numerals—"11111" and "11112" etc.

The disadvantage of a code is that everyone using it has to have a bulky code book, but a good code is virtually unbreakable. The only sure way is to steal a copy of the code book, and they're hard to come by.

None Too Tough

On the other hand, it is generally agreed that no cipher has ever been invented that can't be deciphered—eventually. Users simply hope that by the time an intercepted message is deciphered it will be out of date. The advantage to most ciphers is that the key can be carried in one's head and can easily be changed.

The simplest kind of cipher is the "single substitution." In this you scramble the alphabet so that one letter equals another. No straight single substitution would fool an expert five minutes, however.

He has tables which show what letters occur most frequently. E is most frequent, followed by T, A, O and N.

If L and J occur most frequently in a ciphered message, the cryptographer puts them down as probably equaling E or T, and so on. After a little fitting and trying, words begin to take shape and he can guess at the rest.

The Basis

"Double substitution" ciphers are more baffling. Most of them are based on something called the "Vigenere Tableau," after the Frenchman who invented it several hundred years ago. (See the accompanying chart.)

To use it first select a "key" word or phrase. "Horse," for example. You write your message "in the clear" with the key repeated underneath it. Thus:

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD MEN
HOR SE HOR SEHO RSE HOR SEHO RSE
TO COME TO THE AID OF THE PARTY
HO RSEH OR SEH ORS EH ORS EHORS

Now take the first letter of the message and the first letter of the key. Column N and line H meet at U. That's the first letter of your enciphered message. The message would thus be enciphered:

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD MEN
UCN AW AVV LMTS WGV HZC YSVR DWR

TO COME TO THE AID OF THE PARTY
AC TGQL HF LIL OZV SM HYW THFKQ

Note that under this system E is enciphered as V, S, W and L.

Even so, the Vigenere Tableau, with a short key word, is easy pickings for the trained cryptographer.

With a short keyword there is bound to be some repetition. The cryptographer would conclude that at least W and L represent E.

Using tables of "bigrams" (frequent two-letter combinations) and "trigrams" (three-letters), he could eventually work the problem, but maybe by that time the key would be changed.

(Note: The above is given only as a sample. Usually it is necessary to have a much longer message to make the frequencies work out.)

Almost all modern ciphers are some variety of the Vigenere Tableau. Even the complex ciphering machines stem back to it. There are ways of complicating it almost beyond recognition, but every complication so far invented has been unravelled by methods too tortuous to describe here.

There is another general type of cipher called the "transposition." A simple method would be this:

First write a message as follows—

NWS HTM FR LGO
OITEIE O AL OD ETC.

Then rewrite the whole thing in groups of five letters:

NWSHT MFRLG OMNOI TEIEO ALODE ETC

Almost any transposition cipher can be solved by looking for bigrams and trigrams formed by lettering occurring at regular intervals.

Another Way

An important problem for the cryptographer is to decide what kind of cipher he is dealing with. A single substitution is marked by appearance of letters in normal frequency as far as numbers go. In double substitution usually no letter will appear many more times than any other. Transposition is marked by normal frequency.

Of course, if the message has been coded, then enciphered by transposition and then re-enciphered by some tableau variation, hte cryptographer would have a long, hard day.

CIO Enters The Rail Labor Field

Philadelphia, Oct. 17—(AP)—The CIO made its first dent in the railroad labor field, the unofficial returns of a National Mediation Board election showed today, when it was named bargaining agent by three groups of Pennsylvania Railroad shop workers.

The CIO-requested election, largest ever held by the board, involved 62,253 employes, 14,383 of which are in the armed forces.

A board spokesman said five PRR groups—machinists, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, carmen and lectricians—voted to retain the Brotherhood of Railroad Shop Crafts of America (independent) as bargaining agent.

A total of 44,704 will be represented by the brotherhood, the spokesman said, and 17,069 by the United Railroad Workers of America (CIO).

The mediator explained that the vote was close in several instances and may be changed when official returns are certified at Washington.

The election was held Aug. 20 to Sept. 20.

BODY OF CHOCOLATE KING IS LAID TO REST

Hershey, Oct. 17—(AP)—The body of Milton S. Hershey rested today in Hershey cemetery beside those of his wife and parents and residents of this community, which he founded, resumed normal activities after a day's suspension of business to pay their last respects to the 88-year-old philanthropist.

Several thousand persons, including Governor and Mrs. Martin attended funeral services yesterday for Hershey at the industrial school he founded in 1909 for orphan boys and which is supported by a foundation fund estimated at $84,000,000.

The Rev. John H. Treder, vicar of all Saints Episcopal church delivered the funeral sermon with pastors of other Hershey churches participating in the services.

Michigan Utility Workers Go on Strike

THREATEN TO CUT POWER IN LARGE AREA

More Than Two Million Homes and Hundreds of Factories May Be Without Electricity

PLAN FOR EMERGENCY

By the Associated Press

A walkout of Michigan utility workers started today threatening to cut off electrical power for more than 2,000,000 residents of industrial lower counties in the state and in hundreds of factories.

Operators of boilers and turbines in the huge Milwaukee plant near Saginaw, which furnishes power for the rich Saginaw valley, remained away from their jobs but the company reported the plant still was operating "as best we can" with the men who stayed on duty.

The strike, by members of the CIO'S State Utility Workers Council, started at 8 a. m. EST after employes threw a picket line around the Milwaukee plant. The walkout also spread to ather Michigan communities and electrical power to private homes and Michigan communities and electrical power to private homes and industries at Muskegon was shut off at 8 a. m. A union spokesman said, however, service would be provided for hospitals, police and fire departments and other essential users.

The utility workers involved in the dispute over a 30 per cent wage increase demand supply power for nearly all of Michigan's major cities outside Detroit, serving communities in 57 of Michigan's 83 counties. Hundreds of factories have indicated continuation of a strike would force them to halt operations.

The dispute by the utility workers was the latest major controversy on the country's labor front. Across the nation the number of workers away from their jobs by stoppages was around 460,000. This number included the 215,000 soft coal miners who because of labor disputes have been away from some 1,000 pitts in six states

Arnold Discusses Use of Atom Bomb

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Atomic bombs turned into guided missiles with wings and a television head can make present anti-aircraft defenses utterly helpless, General H. H. Arnold said today.

The commanding general of the army air forces told senators at a science hearing that in any next use of the bomb it probably would be launched by aircraft outside anti-aircraft range.

Previous witnesses have talked of shooting down the carrier as a means of defense. Arnold's testimony seemed to cancel that.

Arnold said his idea of defense is to create a highly trained modernly-equipped force that will "prevent war and maintain peace."

With such a force—a combination of nations would be needed, he said—"then you don't have to stop it."

President Truman expressed the hope today that there would be no undue delay in the development of a national policy on the use and control of atomic energy.

He told a news conference he wanted congress to have all the information it needs to legislate but hoped for a prompt decision.

War Casualty Total Placed At 1,169,632

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—A decrease in navy figures brought the war casualty toll down again today to a combined total of 1,069,632 for the armed forces.

This was 521 under last week's count.

The army total, covering casualties reported to the War Department through October 14, is 922,682, an increase of 99 from the previous week. The navy total is 146,950, a drop of 620.

The army casualties this week and a week ago: Killed 208,966 and 207,754; wounded 571,277 and 571,490; missing 19,892 and 21,510; prisoners 122,547 and 121,829.

The navy figures: Killed 55,633 and 55,449; wounded 80,238 and 80,240; missing 9,573 and 9,763; prisoners 1,506 and 2,118.

Year In Army For All Youths Is Predicted

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, pleading for a unified postwar army-navy department, said today the navy neither "consulted nor informed" the army when it made its postwar plans.

The chief of staff told the senate military committee it had been exceedingly difficult during the war to get agreement on conflicting ideas of army and navy leaders.

That's why, he said, a mere continuation of the wartime joint chiefs of staff isn't enough.

Marshall declared the navy department recently sent congress its plans for a postwar navy and marine force, and added:

"The war department has neither been consulted nor informed."

The general declared that under separate commands the war and navy departments would compete with each other in peacetime for congressional appropriations.

The committee, studying the nation's postwar military problems, is expected to get a request from Mr. Truman that every able bodied young man be required to take a year of military training.

The general said in his report that all young Americans ought to be trained for a year to serve their country. He added that this was not universal military service carrying with it actual induction into the armed forces.

Legislators who have talked with the president thought Mr. Truman would leave the way open for training in scientific, medical, vocational and other pursuits that the armed forces can use in wartime.

He probably will suggest enlargement of National Guard and reserve officers' programs.

TWO KILLED IN FALL OF A SMALL PLANE

Salix, Oct. 18—(AP)—A seven-year-old boy, his father and the boy's terrier were killed when a small plane stalled and plummeted 200 feet into a buckwheat field adjoining the airport in this Cambria county community.

The victims were Oliver J. Westover, 51, of Beaverdale, tipple foreman for the Johnstown Coal & Coke Co., and his son, Oliver, Jr. better known as "Skipper."

The dog was thrown clear of the ship but the humans were pinned inside and burned when the plane burst into flames.

Factory Worker Confesses Butchering of His Companion

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 18—(AP)—Police held on a murder warrant today a factory worker who, they said, confessed butchering the body of his companion and burying the pieces over a wide area.

Detective Chief John C. McCarthy said that 21-year-old Jesse McKethan, confronted with the gruesome discovery, admitted "you've got me, and here is the dope."

Then, the detective said, McKethan readily described how he quarreled and fought with 17-year-old George Luther Ades, a shipyard worker, and tried to conceal his crime when he found he had killed him.

The police did not connect the finding of dismembered parts of a body in various parts of the city with Ades until the boy's mother reported him missing.

The detective chief quoted McKethan as giving this account of the crime.

The two youths went to a roadhouse. When they returned to Savannah, McKethan missed his wallet and accused Ades of taking it. They fought. McKethan left Ades in the street, and went home, two blocks away.

Returning to the scene, he found Ades dead. He carried the body home in Ades car and hid it under the house. The next day he went to work at a bag-manufacturing plant.

That night he removed Ades' clothes and buried them. Then, with a butcher knife and saw, he dismembered the body. The next night he sprayed the pieces with a hose.

He later placed parts of the body in cloth sacks and hid or buried them in scattered parts of the city

Hidden Japanese Caches In Precious Metals Found As Move Is Made To Freeze Narcotics

ARMS CONFISCATED

Tokyo, Oct. 18—(AP)—Huge, hidden Japanese fortunes in diamonds and precious metals were scooped up today by American occupation forces, who moved at the same time to stamp out one of Japan's great sources of wealth—the illict narcotics industry.

Allied headquarters froze narcotics stocks in Japan and Korea and banned production of narcotics-yielding plants, estomating by that one move to have cut off more than 90 per cent of the world's illicit narcotics traffic.

As a precautionary measure—possibly in view of the winter of cold and hunger facing the Japanese—American troops in a four-day house to house search confiscated more than 20 truck loads of hidden Japanese arms and ammunitions.

More than $30,000,000 worth of dazzling diamonds—largely government owned and many obtained through deceit of the Japanese people—were discovered today in cheap, quart thermos bottles in a safety deposit box.

While investigators uncovered the rich find, millions of dollars worth of gold and silver bullion began moving in two and one-half ton U. S. Army trucks under armed escort from the bomb-battered government mint to the bank of Japan.

Allied officers found 103 tons of silver bars, which they valued at about $2,000,000, stacked carefully

Nation-Wide Strike Starts In Argentina

Buenos Aires, Oct. 18—(AP)—Nation-wide strike by 500,000 members of the General Confederation of Workers who supported Col. Juan Feron, former vice president, in a new surge to power, today brought nearly to a stop Argentina's industrial and commercial activity.

At the same time a high source said the Argentine high seas fleet had moved out of its base at Puerto Belgrano, 500 mlies south of Buenos Aires.

The strong man of the military government forced the formation of a cabinet of his supporters and friends, and hailed a general

Miners Slow Returning To Coal Digging

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18—(AP)—The great soft coal strike was over by order of UMW President John L. Lewis but it probably will be a week or more before all the miners are back in the pits and coal production is normal again.

Miners await official word from their ranking officers after which it is customary for them to call union meetings and vote on returning to their jobs.

Though miners were told to be back on the job by Monday, many of them were fishing or on vacation trips, and it might be the middle of the week before a majority of the 216,000 idle start digging coal again.

Told of Lewis' order, the Pittsburgh UMW office said rank and file miners "had no grievance" and would return as soon as the mine supervisors, who called the strike, returned.

The coal-starved steel industry, too, welcomed the end of the strike. U. S. Steel Corporation said it would be 10 days or two weeks before it could get back to normal production and reemploy all its 15,700 furloughed employes in Pennsylvania.

Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., with 1,100 idle at its Aliquippa mill, said it would be running full blast again "as soon as possible, the time depending "on how long it takes to get the coal from mines and have it processed."

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, reported it was losing 15,000 tons daily steel production when the strike was called off.

Dutch Proposal In Indonesia Rejected

By RALPH MORTON

Batavia, Java, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Indonesian National Council rejected the Dutch proposal for partnership in this Netherlands empire today and its Vice President, Dr. Mohamed Hatta, warned that many years of bloodshed and bitter fighting would ensue if the Dutch attempt to rule the colony by armed force.

Hatta held a press conference in the residence of the Indonesian Nationalist President Saekarno a few hours after a fresh series of outbreaks scattered localities had resulted in the death of 15 Netherlanders and Christian Indonesians.

"The Dutch should not remain under the illusion that they can thwart the Indonesian desire to remain independent," Hatta said.

U. S. Talks Tougher Than It Acts In German Policy

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The United States consistently has talked tougher than it has acted in the control of defeated Germany, a newly-published policy directive disclosed today.

The directive was the first which Gen. Dwight G. Eisenhower received last April in preparation for establishment of a military government in the part of Germany his forces occupied.

It also was intended to guide the general in working with British, Russian and French members of the Allied control council at Berlin.

Later at their Berlin meeting in July, President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin laid down an Allied policy for Germany which for all practical purposes superseded the earlier directive sent to Eisenhower as an expression of American policy alone.

It is true, however, that on any points not covered by the Potsdam declaration, Eisenhower still may draw his authority from the original Truman order.

In most respects this original order and the Potsdam declaration coincide in spirit of not in actual words. Both state for example that the fact of their defeat must be brought home to the German people.

Both order in effect that Germany should not have a standard of living higher than that of the surrounding countries in Europe, that the development farming as a major German occupation should be stressed and that the industrial disarmament of Germany should reach far down into the Reich's industrial life.

Beyond these instructions, American policy was stated to call for the removal of all active Nazis or other persons hostile to the Allies—not only from public office but also "from positions of importance and quasi-public and private enterprises."

Fraternization was sternly frowned upon in the original order.

By contrast, reports from Germany invariably stay that practically no industrial equipment has been removed from the American zone.

Civic Leader Dies Following Brief Illness

Walter W. Beaty died Wednesday afternoon at Warren General Hospital following a brief illness. In his passing, this community and a host of friends and business associates have suffered a very real and personal loss.

Born at Fagundus, Warren county, the son of Orrin Weston and Ellen Smith Beaty, he moved to Warren with his parents as a small child and has resided here ever since. His paternal grandfather, David Beaty, was among the earlier settlers of this borough, and his maternal grandfather, Chauncey Smith, became a resident of Youngsville over 100 years ago.

After graduating from DeVeaux Military School at Niagara Falls, he later entered Cornell University and was a member of the class of 1897. Returning to Warren he became active in the business of oil and gas production which continued until his death.

His business activities, however, were not limited to this field, and for many years he has been actively connected with the Warren Savings Bank and its successor, Warren Bank and Trust Co., both as director, and in recent years as president of the latter banking house. He was also connected with Warren General Concrete Products Corporation and was vice-president of the company at the time of his death.

He served Warren borough as a councilman during the years 1919-25 and has been treasurer of Warren borough since 1928, and for many years has been a valued member of the board of trustees of Struthers Library building.

A lifelong active member of Trinity Memorial church of this city, he has been a member of its vestry since 1905 and its senior warden for many years. His church activities also extended beyond his own parish and he was one of the board of trustees of the Diocese of Erie of the Protestant Episcopal church. He was also a member of the Conewango Club.

He leaves to survive him, his wife, Grace Cullen Beaty and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Beaty Keelor and Dr. Elizabeth Smith Beaty.

The funeral services will be held at Trinity Memorial church Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock and will be conducted by the Rt. Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, Bishop of the

Slaying At Pittsburgh Is Re-enacted

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18—(AP)—With the admonition of his weeping mother to "tell the entire truth" ringing in his ears, William Blader, 18-year-old Pitt student, prepared today for the fifth time to reenact for police the fatal shooting of Frank M. Amberson, 50-year-old Springdale confectioner, Friday morning in Schenley Park.

The reunion between the youth and his mother, Mrs. Rita Blader of Brooklyn, took place last night in Oakland police station where the student had been held since his arrest Sunday morning.

The mother wore dark glasses and kept a handkerchief closely pressed to her mouth while she waited to see her son. She had to be assisted up the stairway. As she left, she was weeping and apparently near collapse.

Police Superintendent Harvey J. Scott said Blader was to be taken over the Schenley Park-Carnegie museum route again today to reenact once more, and in line with his latest statement, what happened in the park last Friday morning.

Scott also announced the suspension of a police fingerprint ex-

25,000-WORD ACCUSATION IS DRAWN FOR PRESENTATION TO WAR CRIMES COURT IN BERLIN

Germans and Their High Command Associates Are Blamed Officially for the Brutal Slaughter of About 10,000,000 Helpless Persons

DRAWN UP BY PROSECUTORS OF FOUR NATIONS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Allied powers indicted 24 German leaders and six Nazi organizations today on charges of starting the world's greatest war and committing history's most horrible mass crimes of murder, torture, devastation and hate.

The leaders named are former key men in Adolf Hitler's government and top generals and admirals of the German high command.

Basically they are accused of a gigantic "plan or conspiracy," dating from 1921, to rule Germany and conquer other lands they wanted. Their strategy: treachery and terror first, finally a deliberate aggressive war.

The 25,000-word accusation was drawn for presentation to the four-power war crimes court at Berlin. It is an unprecedented document; it sums up in cold legalo form Allied fury over Nazi outrages, and it forces the men accused of responsibility to answer for their acts.

The bulk of the indictment is a recital of horrors.

The Nazis and their high command associates are blamed officially for the brutal slaughter of about 10,000,000 helpless persons, civilians and prisoners of war.

About 4,000,000 were slain at Auschwitz concentration camp alone, the indictment says, and another 1,500,000 in notorious Maidanek.

Of 9,000,000 Jews who came under domination in and out of Germany, the document asserts, 5,700,000 disappeared.

"Most of them deliberately put to death by Nazi conspirators.

The Nazis and their associates are accused also of:

Of toturing civilians to obtain information,

Of putting civilians under "protective arrest" in the "most unhealthy and inhuman conditions."

Of mass murder of defenseless people by gassing and shooting,

Of incredibly cruel "scientific" experiments on women,

Of drawing the blood of children,

Of shooting hostages, ill-treating and murdering war prisoners and

Of plundering or wiping out by wholesale destruction the cities and towns of lands they occupied.

"American prisoners, officers and men were murdered in Normandy during the summer of 1944 and in the Ardennes in December, 1944," the oficial document declared. "American prisoners were starved, beaten and otherwise mistreated in numerous stalags (prison camps in Germany and in the occupied countries, particularly in 1943, 1944 and 1945."

The indictment furnished the basis for projected trial of German Nazi and military leaders by the Anglo-American-French-Soviet military tribunal in Nuernberg, Germany. It was drawn up by prosecutors of the four Allied nations, including Justice Robert H. Jackson for the United States. It was released simultaneously in the Allied capitals and in Germany.

The 24 men named as defendants were the highest in Adolf Hitler's Nazi government to be taken alive. Among them are Hermann Goering, Rudolph Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Robert Ley, all key Hitler officials, Generals Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl; Admirals Karl Doenitz and Eric Raeder; Industrialist Gustav Kroupp von Bohlen und Halbach; Financier Hjalmar Schacht.

Against some of them the indictment makes four sweeping, general accusations: (1) crimes against peace in starting the war, (2) war crimes in violation of the accepted laws of war, (3) crimes against humanity which included the Jewish persecutions, and (4) conspiring together to commit these crimes.

After these four general counts are laid down with details of supporting evidence, the names of the individuals are listed together with the specific counts on which each is to be tried.

Organizations indicted are Hitler's old Reich cabinet, the German general staff and high command, the Leadership Corps of the Nazi party, the SS organization (a police and military outfit), the Gestapo (dread secret police), and the SA (a police and military training organization.

The previously announced intention of the prosecution is to prove these to be criminal organizations and that any person legally found to be a member would be convicted automatically as a criminal. Thus the prosecutors hope to shorten the trials of hundreds, perhaps, thousands, of Germans yet to be indicted.

Today's indictment traces the great Nazi conspiracy from the emergence of Hitler as a political leader in 1921, through his election as chancellor of the German republic in 1933 and his suppression of all opposition in Germany immediately thereafter. The Nazi party is described as "the central core" of the conspiracy.

Three aims are are attributed to the Nazis:

1. To destroy the treaty of Versailles and its restrictions on German military power.

2. To regain German territories lost in World War I and other European territories occupied by "racial Germans" such as the Sudetenland, and

3. To acquire "living space" in Europe and elsewhere.

Thus the Nazis—consolidating their power inside Germany through suppression of liberties, persecutions of Jews and other means—progressed to the point where in 1936-39 they took over Austria and Czechoslovakia and invaded Poland, "thus precipitating war with the United Kingdom and France."

It was but a matter of time then until the Allied world, including the United States, was drawn into the conflict.

American entry as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is linked to the German-Japanese-Italian military alliance and to the fact that after Japan struck Germany declared war on this country.

"By reason of all the foregoing," the indictment states, "the defendants with divers other persons, are guilty of a common plan or conspiracy for the accomplishment of crimes against peace; of

$17,232 Reported At First Meeting Of Workers In United War Fund Campaign

The chalk screaked along the blackboard. The adding machine tapped-tapped at the long table. Division by division, team by team, the results materialized from the lips of the captains themselves. After two full days of work, the first report meeting of the 1945 War Fund drive was under way.

When the chalk finished its work, and the last digit had been computed on the realistic adding machine, Chairman E. W. Johnson announced that a total of $17,232 had been recorded toward the goal of $88,700. This admittedly doesn't sound like much, campaign chiefs agreed, but it compares with only $16,582.87 recorded at the first report meeting in 1944 and represents only two days work compared with three days last year when the first report was made on Thursday instead of Wednesday. On the other hand ("Ya gotta look at both sides of it ya know,") there are only seven days to do the entire job as against ten days in 1945.

The meeting was opened with an invocation by A. F. Kottcamp, General Chairman E. W. Johnson, in his introductory remarks, expressed his hope that the results would be the best for the first two days' work of any of the three War Fund campaigns. "From expressions in the room," he added, "It looks as if we would have a favorable report." Chester Allen, sage of Warren campaigning, stressed the importance of Division B in the final result. "The whole campaign will slip if Ed Ley and his boys fall down," he emphasized. And Ed Ley made no protest, evidently agreeing with this analysis.

John G. Rossman, chairman of the Government Division, made the address of the evening. He pointed out that this is the hardest of all the three war Fund drives; that it takes more self-denial to give in peace time than in the midst of war. He chose as his text the inaugural address of President Lincoln in March 1865. Presenting the famous speech sentence by sentence, he showed how each of the immortal phrases applied to the present situation equally as well as to the days of 1865. Pointing to the official campaign poster with the slogan, "They're still giving—are you?", Rossman emphasized that thousands of service men, the wounded and the disturbed, are still giving and would continue to give throughout their lives, no less than those who lie in graves all over the earth. Concluding his remarks, he said "As you have been generous in times of war, be more generous in times of peace. The crisis is far greater.

Two Billion Tax Cut Is Favored

Washington, Oct. 18—(AP)—The senate finance committee voted today to cut individual income taxes $2,085,000,000 a year and remove an estimated 12,000,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls.

The senators also agreed to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations next January 1, accounting for another slash of $2,555,000,000 in revenue.

Thus, before acting on proposed excise tax reductions and other odds and ends, the committee in a two-hour session reduced the prospective federal income by a total of $4,640,000,000.

The committee began closed door tax-cutting studies today apparently much more in agreement on business reductions than on how to trim individual tax bills.

STEIN'S

Serious Offense Committed By Boys on Conewango Ave.

Boys of the Conewango avenue and Monroe street section who have figured in many escapades during the past few months last evening overstepped all bounds. The boys were busy throwing stones and bricks at one of the West Ridge buses, which is a most serious offense. Police were called but the boys had all disappeared when the officers arrived. The investigation will be continued for an indefinite period and it is expected that arrests will be made.

One drunk also fell into the hands of the officers and he will tell his story to Justice Greenlund today.

Officers were rushed to the Harriet Bert Shop late last evening when the burglar alarm let go. Search of the premises failed to reveal any person in the vicinity.

Stanley Sturgis during the evening reported to the police that his Bantam car was stolen from in front of the Nazarene church. Whether or not it was recovered did not appear on police reports.

At 11:25 police investigated a small automobile accident at Grant and Pennsylvania avenue. Florence Raffenberger, RD 1 was driving east on Pennsylvania avenue when she crashed into a parked truck operated by Bert Frantz, 311 West Front street, Berwick, Pa., and owned by Nick Dicianni, Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Raffenberger and Mrs. Mary Thompson, 75, RD 1, Warren sustained small cuts on the face.

Betts Machine Shops Will Be Enlarged By An Addition

The Betts Machine Company has broken ground for an addition to their present plant at 1800 Pennsylvania avenue, west. The new building to be erected will be used, in part, to take care of their increasing business in their welding department. It will add considerable space to the machine shop floor, providing necessary space for additional machinery which is expected to arrive in the very near future.

The Betts Machine Company was active during the war, turning out parts for guns and other defense projects. Since V-J Day the personnel has been increased about 50% and the plant is operating on a 50-hour week schedule, 2 shifts, turning out peace time products.

Present production schedules are concentrated on the manufacture of special, custom-built valves, experimental autoclaves, parts for mining machinery and work of special natures in small experimental machines. Much of this work is in stainless steel.

The company operates under a participating plan of sharing profits with their employees. This plan is producing real results in the ability of the company, thru greater efficiency, to better compete in securing new business as well as serve their old customers. A Co-operative group insurance plan, offering the employees accident, health, hospital and life insurance at very low-cost has also been established.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates, holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Progress In Celebration Plan Is Seen

All the different committees responsible for the 12th annual North Warren Hallowe'en celebration are busily carrying out assignments, it was stated today by Gerald Rickerson, chairman. There's a tremendous amount of preparation required for this yearly event, sponsored by the North Warren Civic Club, but Chairman Rickerson reports everything is right up to schedule.

The huge indoor carnival being held in the community house the nights of October 31 through November 3 will feature an outstanding bill of entertainment and there will be games galore for old and young. Special prizes will be awarded each evening and the grand climax will come with the awarding on Saturday evening, November 3, of a 1946 Plymouth sedan.

Tickets for the event may be had from any member of the North Warren Civic Club and are also on sale in Warren at the B & B Smoke Shop, Bimber's News Room, Don Finley's and the United Cigar Store.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Firemen had two runs yesterday. One at the Friendly diner, Laurel and Penn avenue where fire had started under a steam table. A section of the back of the diner was ripped off and the fire quenched. Considerable damage resulted in getting at the fire. The second call came last evening at 8:32 when leaves were discovered burning at the home of Wallace Cowden, 19 Fourth avenue. It is thought someone tossed a cigarette into the leaves and set them ablaze. There was no loss.

LINES OPENED

Pennsylvania rail lines west from Warren were opened this morning and Train No. 581 from the east went through. Wrecking crews worked long and hard to get the tracks opened and the debris cleared away for the passage of trains. During the time the tracks were plugged by wreckage the passenger trains were all detoured by way of Oil City and 580 eastbound last night was several hours late in leaving Warren. No freight trains were detoured but were held up until the lines were again open.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

When the last team captain, the last worker, had departed; when the big hall of the Y. W. C. A. was deserted except for Henry Candy's battalion of office commandos picking up the pieces; the usual postmortems were held on the results of the First Report Meeting:

Said E. W. Johnson, general chairman: "We're going to have to put forth a lot of extra effort between now and Monday. In sections of the county where there have been industrial layoffs, many people are not giving who did give last year. Other sections willl have to make up for this if we are to reach our goal. But I believe we'll make it."

Said Allen M. Gibson, county chairman: "The condition you speak of exists only in a few sections, not in the county as a whole. From the results I'm confident that in spite of the end of the war, the great majority of people are giving just as liberally as last year. I think that's a good tip for the workers. They should not be satisfied with a reduced gift, but should try to get an amount equal to 1944."

Said Chester Allen, Division A chairman: "We must stress the shortness of time. We have only seven days this year as against ten days last year. This means extra work, redoubled effort. But it also means the job will be done more quickly and, I believe, just as successfully. If every citizen will give the equivalent of 10 hours pay, we'll be over the top."

HOME NURSING COURSES

There is no more direct way for the average citizen to do his or her part in relieving the acute nursing shortage than by taking one of the free home nursing courses offered by the Red Cross, which now has facilities to train 3,000,000 more men and women, according to an article on another page.

Those who take advantage of this free instruction will not only learn fundamentals of bedside care which will be of great value when illness occurs in their families, but will also gain a knowledge of preventive medicine which will help to keep them and their families in good health.

Four courses are now being offered by the Red Cross —the standard 24-hour course for adults; the short course of six lessons; the college level course; and the high school course, which is sometimes combined with home economics or science instruction. Our local Red Cross Chapter willl kindly give you further details on these coaurses.

WALTER BEATY

The community today joins with his bereaved family in mourning the loss of one of the borough's foremost citizens, Walter W. Beaty, life-long business leader and civic boosters, who died at the Warren General Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

In addition to his far-sighted interest in the community and his church those who knew him throughout the years and were privileged to be with and about him had a great admiration for Mr. Beaty's many fine traits.

The world is richer because Mr. Beaty lived in it and the people of this community are richer because he was one of them throughout a long and active life during which they had an opportunity of association with him.

The fond memory of a faithful and self-sacrificing citizen, a kindly friend and good neighbor will not soon be forgotten.

TURKEY DAY NOVEMBER 22

Warren, along with the rest of the state of Pennsylvania, will celebrate Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday of November, the 22d. As a matter of fact all but two states, Tennessee and Arkansas, will observe the same date. They will eat turkey on the traditional last Thursday, which this year falls on the 29th.

The District of Columbia will observe the 22nd as the holiday.

Last year five states, Florida, Idaho, Nebraska, Texas and Virginia, observed the last or fifth Thursday in the month.

The situation is complicated this year as it was last, by five Thursdays in November. But that won't happen again until 1950.

While California hasn't quite made up its mind about this year's holiday, it is expected to observe the 22d.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Oh my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousness, but for thy great mercies.—Daniel 9:18.

Being all fashioned of the self-same dust,
Let us be merciful as well as just. —Longfellow.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"We have only just begun to fight"

We were sitting around Bill Webster's fire the other night, enjoying a mellow glass of beer, and talking—now that the war is over—about what Peace really means.

"I can tell you one thing it doesn't mean," says Bill. "It doesn't mean that we can all relax—and take things easy—and figure we're living in Utopia."

"You're right," Judge Cunningham agrees. "Peace means, among other things, eternal vigilance. Free men are still at war with hatred, prejudice, intolerance—whether it's intolerance of a man's political beliefs, or of his right to choose between a glass of beer or buttermilk."

From where I sit, the Judge is absolutely right. Peace means continued vigilance—continued struggle against all the forces of intolerance that caused the last war, and can sow the seeds of future conflict. Maybe we should paraphrase the slogan of a Revolutionary hero: "We have only just begun to fight."

Penelec To Spend $4,000,000 On Steam Electric Station To Be Erected West of Borough

Officials of the Pennsylvania Electric Company today announced plans for the construction of a modern 30,000 KW steam electric generating station to be located along the Allegheny river two miles west of Warren. Estimated costs of the project are placed at over $4,000,000.

The new station has been designed to incorporate the most modern and efficient steam generating practices known to the electric industry. The plant, a coal burning station, will utilize two boilers to furnish steam at 850 pounds pressure, 875° F. and 370,000 pounds per hour. Water will be drawn from the Allegheny river at the rate of 30,000 gallons per minute for condensing steam from from the turbine. Gilbert Associates, Inc., of Reading, are in charge of design and construction.

Boring operations to determine soil characteristics for the plant foundation were started last week and it is expected that work, such as clearing the site, laying the necessary railroad sidings, and erecting buildings to be used during construction, will get under way next month. When the station is completed in the Spring of 1947, it will increase the generating capacity of Penelec to over 260,000 KW.

In commenting on the new generating station, President P. H. Harris said, "Penelec first started to think of this addition in 1943 shortly after the merger of the Bradford Electric Co., Erie County Electric Co., and Keystone Public Service Co. of Oil City with Pennsylvania Electric Company. The Board of Directors approved the expenditure and preliminary plans were drawn. Although materials were not available, we decided to do as much paper work as we could and schedule the project as No. 1 on our Peacetime expansion program. Projects of this type should do much to enable our suppliers to reconvert in an orderly manner from war to peacetime manufacture."

FARM NEWS

Maintain Milk Quality By Careful Handling

From now until the end of winter, dairymen will have to be careful in handling their milk, to maintain the quality demanded by the consumer.

Too many dairymen try to "air" cool their milk, with the result that cans are often returned to them. It is almost impossible to cool a can of milk merely by setting it out of doors after milking, and expecting the air to cool it. Air is a poor conductor of heat and cold. While a can of milk is being cooled, extremely slowly by the surrounding air, the bacteria that spoil milk grow unusually rapidly.

Air cooling of milk often results in freezing. This disrupts the chemical balance of the milk by breaking down the physical structure of the milk itself. True butterfat samples cannot be obtained from a frozen milk supply.

Hold the milk supply in insulated cooling tanks that are kept full of clean, pure cool water. Do not allow the milk to stand outdoors too long before being picked up by the hauler. To prevent freezing, while milk is being hauled, insist on having milk cans covered with blankets.

DON'T SHOW AGE

The rings of a rattlesnake's tail give little indication of the reptile's age. Rarely is a snake found with more than 10 or 11 rattles. The whip-cracking effect of the tip keeps them broken off, and new rattles are grown at the front of the tail.

ASIATIC DELICACY

The curious Asiatic fat-tailed sheep is raised for wool and the tail, which contains many pounds of fat. The tail is considered by natives of both Asia and Africa to be a delicacy.

RIGID ARMY TESTS

Before trucks are accepted by the U. S. Army, they must undergo rigid service tests, among which is climbing of a man-made "hill" having a 45-degree incline.

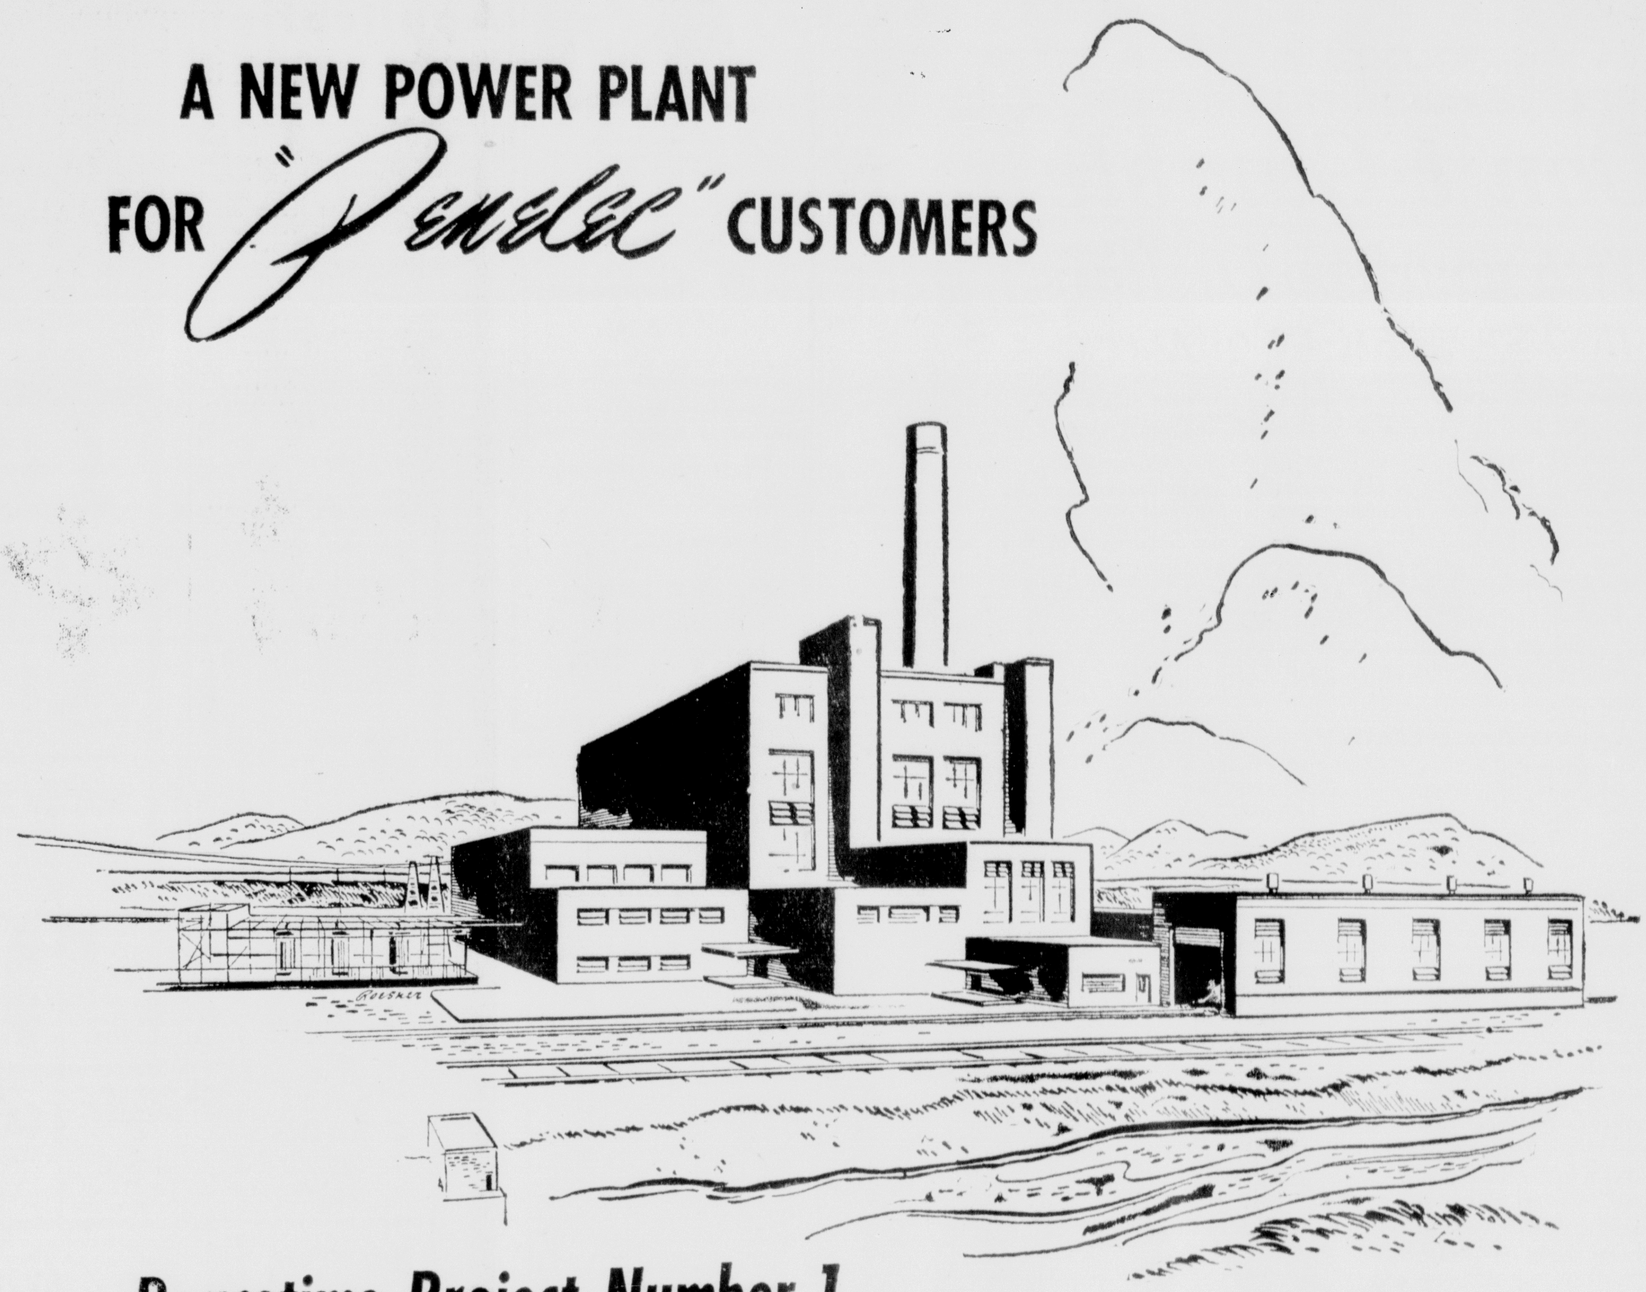
A NEW POWER PLANT FOR "PENELEC" CUSTOMERS



Peacetime Project Number 1

The modern 30,000 KW Steam Electric Generating Station to be constructed at WARREN, PA., by Penelec at a cost of over $4,000,000 marks the beginning of our Planned Peacetime Program. This project, labeled by management as "Peacetime Project Number One," is the first of a series of additions and improvements to be made by Penelec to continue serving you with dependable, low-cost electric service.

Authorized under wartime conditions for peacetime needs, it was given priority on the drawing board over all other projects. When completed in the spring of 1947, it will increase the total generating capacity of Penelec to over 260,000 kilowatts . . . all integrated in power loops to serve almost 200,000 customers from Lake Erie . . . south to the Maryland State Line.

This and other projects scheduled by Penelec reflect our confidence in the future growth of the area served. The man-hours necessary to construct and equip this plant will be an important contribution in the reconstruction period that lies ahead.

My rosy cheeks, my sparkling eyes!

...You're very kind to say so, but don't you think good looks come from good health? It's what I eat that makes me feel so fine!

My mother and my doctor see to it that I get the best. I'm eating Beech-Nut because Beech-Nut foods retain natural food values in high degree.

They put the roses in my cheeks. They help to put the sparkle in my eye. U-m-m, they are delicious. Why don't you give your baby Beech-Nut? Ask your grocer. He's sure to have...

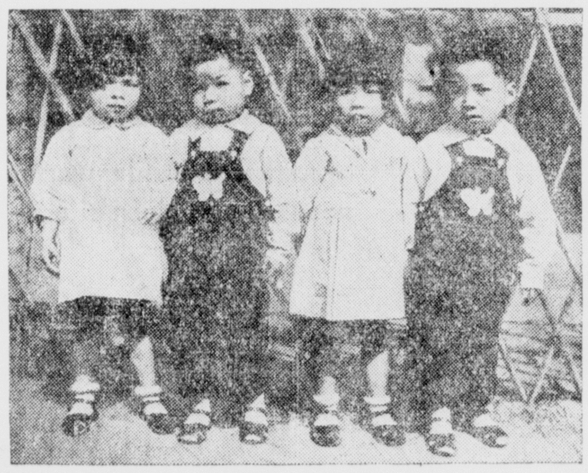
War-Born Chinese Quads Are Aided By Fund from Y.M.C.A.



There is no pressing economic problem in at least one household in South China—that of the "Little Four," United States Chiu, China Chiu, Great Britain Chiu, and Soviet Chiu, China's celebrated war-born quadruplets.

As a result of money contributed through the Y. M. C. A. from United China Relief funds and an annual grant from the provisional government, the four tots and their parents are now living in comparative luxury in their own house in the town of Kukong.

The quartet of youngsters, now seven years of age, was born to Chiu Shek-hoi, wife of an indolent shopkeeper, during the Japanese bombing of Canton. The children were delivered by American doctors as Jap Zeros and Aichi 99s roared overhead. Overjoyed because she was assured by the Americans there would be no charge for the medical aid, the tiny Chinese mother promptly named her children the "Big Four" of the United Nations.

For three years Mame Chiu, after her return to Jap-occupied Canton, struggled to support her family. Then, irked by the presence of the Japanese, she packed up her belongings and moved to Kukong. It was in this town that she and her brood came to the attention of E. H. Lockwood, one of the numerous Y. M. C. A. representatives in the Orient. He and the local relief committee took over.

In time the Y. M. C. A. man raised $500 and Papa Chiu bought a roadside matshed. Then as a result of the 'Y' man's activities the provisional government gave the Chius a house and set aside an annual subsidy for the children. The Chius, according to latest reports, are among the comfortable families of their community, while the quads are regarded as the top sight of the area. So unusual are quadruple births in the Orient, that there is no word for quads in the Chinese language.

Honor Award Is Given To Tidioute Man

A Certificate of Commendation, highest honor award bestowed in Army Service Commands, has been given to Major John T. McCloskey, QMC, by Major General Philip Hayes, commanding general of the Third Service Command. Major McCloskey, native of Tidioute, is director of maintenance at the TSC headquarters at Baltimore and received the decoration from General Hayes in a ceremony held in the latter's office.

The citation accompanying the Certificate of Commendation reads as follows:

"For outstanding and meritorious service as Commanding Officer of the Richmond Regional Clothing and Textile shop, Richmond, Va., from 6 September 1944 to 3 July 1945. Major McCloskey effected complete organization; developed highly efficient production control; instituted exceptional training program; and used work simplification and work measurement to maximum degree. Through his skillful management the shop processed over 400,000 pieces per month, a production increase of 130 percent with a corresponding increase in productive man hours of only 17 percent. This effectiveness was invaluable in the reclamation of critical clothing and textile items; reflecting great credit upon Major McCloskey and upon the Service Command."

Waltz Airs Are Beautiful As Arranged

Mrs. Frank Williams of the Williams School of Dancing has announced the second portion of her program for the dance recital to be given at Beauty School. It would be little short of blasphemous to attempt to impose a "story" on these well known and greatly loved piano waltzes, of famous composers. The choreograph is a purely plastic expression of each vibration of the music.

Overture—Invitation to the Waltz—Weber.

Grand Valse Caprice—Engelmann.

Ensemble: Dorothy Benson, Julia Berdine, Jean Brindis, Mona Jean Brooks, Mary Ella Cable, Riea Dirling, Martha Anne Edwards, Nancy Geracimos, Karlene Gibson, Phoebe Jewell, Marlene Johnson, Mary Alice Morse, Nancy Lee Plummer, Elaine Stone.

Specialties: Nancy Geracimos, 2nd Valse in b flat—Durand.

Riea Dirling and Mary Alice Morse—A Waltz in the Moonlight—Federer.

Karlene Gibson and Phoebe Jewell—(Classical Acrobatic Waltz)—Valse Charmante—Friml.

Martha Anne Edwards—Valse Opus 70 No 1—Chopin.

Mary Ella Cable—Valse in D Major—Glazounoff.

Jean Brindis — Waltz of the Flower Girl—Dennee.

Elaine Stone—Valse Blanche—Friml.

The featured attraction of this ballet is the Adagio done by Mrs. Williams and Betty Gayle Scalise to the Valse Romantique by Federer.

The ballet is brought to a close by the entire ensemble.

All specialties and solos in this ballet are worthy of high commendation. The pupils doing them worked hard this past year to reach their present attainment.

A featured attraction is the classical acrobatic waltz done by the Little Misses Karlene Gibson and Phoebe Jewell.

Kittanning Rite Of Interest Here

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards, of Kittanning, have announced tne marriage of their daughter, Dorothy J., to Arnold G. Rounds, son of Mrs. Florence Rounds, of Irvine, the double ring ceremony having been performed at 2:30 p. Sunday, October 7, in the First Baptist church in Kittanning. Rev. W. K. Morgan officiated and 50 guests heard the couple exchange their vows. Wedding music was by Elizabeth Klingensmith, Mrs. Walter Anderson and Elsie Cathcart.

Given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. Martha Moissant, of Niles, O., the bride wore brown accessories and a pink rosebud corsage with a powder blue suit, black accessories and yellow rosebuds. The bride's mother chose royal blue velvet for her frock, and the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Maybelle Rhoades, of Irvine, selected black crepe with fuchsia accessories. Each had a yellow rosebud corsage.

David Shobel, also of Niles, was best man.

A reception for 35 guests followed at the bride's home.

The newlyweds will make their home in Buffalo, N. Y., where Mr. Rounds expects to return to his former position with General Motors, Inc. He recently returned from overseas and was honorably discharged on September 17 after 12 months overseas duty in England, France, Belgium and Germany. He was decorated with the Purple Heart and an Oak Leaf Cluster, three battle stars and the Good Conduct Medal. The bride is a graduate of Kittanning High School, Class of 1940, and was formerly employed by Joseph S. Finch and Company, Schenley.

Aids All Charities

The bandage-making program is history, the blood bank is closed with an al-time record, and the energies of women are being reconvertedl along with other agencies of productiveness. If the women of Warren want to serve with a minimum of effort which will leave them free to devote more time to all the unfinished business for which the women of America are responsible —volunteer to aid the Needlework Guild of America. Known as the "charity which helps all charities", the Guild asks of its members only that they give two new articles of clothing or household linens each year. Directors must collect 22 items and an unspecified sum of money to be included or continued in that category.

The Warren branch of the Guild has set Friday, November 2, as its annual Garment Collection Day, when articles will be displayed at the Woman's Club from three until five, and Mrs. T. I. Donaldson and her committee will serve a cup of tea to all comers. True, the war has ended, but agencies who receive the articles given to the Guild have had no let-up in demands for their services, and it is hoped that the increase that has marked donations right through the war years may be continued and topped this year. Directors will have a tray lunch at the YWCA at noon tomorrow to hear reports of the visiting nurses, state nurse, Warren Relief and Children's Aid on the type of articles most needed in their work this fall. Names of 43 directors will be announced within a few days and they will appreciate your getting gift articles to them promptly.

Prep Club Hayride Proves Successful

With the cooperation of the weather man, about 100 boys and girls of the PAK "Prep" Club enjoyed a hayride party to the Hemlock community house last evening. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Tritt were the adult supervisors.

Dancing was enjoyed, with an added treat provided in the appearance of four senior boys, Bill Blair, Dale Soderburg, Don and Bruce Wood, who brought instruments to form a small orchestra and added much to the pleasure of the dancers.

Al Marrer, as chairman for the evening, was in charge of a brief business session and Jack Warner secretary, read the minutes. Allan Schuler and Lorna Mae Hulings were appointed co-chairmen for next month's event.

The organization has asked the Times-Mirror to publicly express its appreciation to Kenneth Lawson for providing transportation for the party.

OPENING SERVICE OF ANNUAL CONVENTION

Rev. G. Woerner was the speaker last evening at the opening service of the annual missionary convention at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 705 Conewango avenue. He spoke of the work on the island of Borneo, illustrating his message with colored slides depicting the life and customs of the Dyak people. He told how these former headhunters, when converted to Christianity, gave up their sinful and superstitious ways, built churches and many of them went to Bible school to prepare themselves to evangelize their own people. It was on this island that a number of the missionaries of the society were killed by the Japs and others died in internment camps.

Tonight, Mrs. H. Koenigswald will deliver the missionary address, followed by a Bible message by Rev. H. F. Meltzer. Mrs. Koenigswald represents West China and Tibet, having worked along the border for a number of years. She lived through one Moslem rebellion and a famine and will have many interesting experiences to tell.

The convention will continue each evening through Sunday.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

Mrs. Arthur Carlson was hostess at her home for a shower party which honored Lois Abbey, bride of this week. Games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Eleanor O'Donnell for high and Mrs. Lois Miller for low. At a late hour refreshments were served to the following: Lois Abbey, Mrs. Eleanor O'Donnell, Biana Artico of Youngsville, Helene Smisna, Mrs. Estelle Wineriter, Mrs. Pauline Hedges, Mrs. Dorothy Cederquist, Mrs. Lois Miller, Mrs. Vera Nesmith, Mrs. Gladys Brezee, Louise Murphy. The honored guest was showered with many beautiful gifts for her future home.

PARTY FOR DAUGHTER

Mrs. Sam Massa, 115 Water street, entertained 14 girl friends of her daughter, Dolores (Morty) Massa, in celebration of her 15th birthday anniversary. Games and dancing were enjoyed. Later in the evening, the girls presented gifts to the honored guest and lunch and a huge birthday cake were served at a table done in Hallowe'en decorations.

A committee meeting of the Interdenominational Mission Study Group will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the social rooms of the First Baptist church. Plans for the current season will be made and officers elected for the coming year. Each church is asked to send two representatives.

REBEKAHS WILL HAVE INSTALLATION

Owing to installation ceremonies tomorrow evening, Rebekah Lodge will convene at 7:30 o'clock, and Noble Grand Cleo Adolphson asks all her officers to dress in white. The social committee will serve refreshments after the installation.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Cornplanter Gun Club Is Well Improved

Members of the Cornplanter Gun Club, some of the most enthusiastic sportsmen of the county, are at work improving their club house in Glade township and making it larger and more commodious. The club house, which formerly faced the west, has been swung around until it now fronts to the east. The big veranda has been placed in fine shape and affords a most beautiful view of the lands to the east.

The job of turning the club house around was a big one but the members work lustily and have accomplished a good job.

Work of adding an addition to the rear is now under way and it is hoped by the members that all of the work will be accomplished and in ship shape before cold weather sets in when the club house is used extensivedy by the members.

Chapter 7

THE question hung suspended in the air between them. Anne's heart began to beat again after a moment, quiveringly startled. Wayne released her arms and stood before her, pleading his case.

"Oh, I know it's an awful thing to ask a girl—when we can't be certain of anything beyond tomorrow! But, oh, darling, I want you so! I want to know that you're—my wife!" His voice grew tender on the word.

Anne began to breathe excitedly. "But Wayne—can—could we—so quickly, I mean?"

"You mean—you'd even consider it?"

"Well, I—Wayne, I love you—!"

The words seemed so inadequate to describe the fiery, burning white flame that was coursing through her veins.

"And I love you, little darling! So that's all that is necessary, isn't it? Look precious—tomorrow we'll attend to all the preliminaries, then we can get married the day after. And that will leave us two whole days for a honeymoon!"

"People will say we're crazy!"

"Sure they will, but what do we care what people say?"

WHEN Wayne had finally gone home, having arranged to meet her on the morrow to perfect their plans, Anne fairly flew up to tell Eve the news. She burst into the room without thinking to find Eve curled up in bed fast asleep, the letter from Garret folded close against her heart. At the sound of Anne's noisy entrance she opened her eyes.

"Oh, darling," Anne cried in quick remorse, "I'm so sorry to disturb you—when you haven't slept for weeks! I should be murdered and cut up in little pieces! But—but oh, Eve! Now that you are awake, I—I may as well tell you! I—I'm going to be married!"

Eve sat up and blinked at her stupidly for a moment. "Pardon me, Anne, but I could have sworn that you said you were going to be married!"

Anne fell on the bed, convulsed with helpless laughter, trembling all over. "You know darn well that's what I said!" she cried. "And oh, Eve! I'm so excited I could just—just about die!"

Eve bent over and kissed the tremblin' lips, a look of anxiety in her own eyes. "Anne," she spoke seriously, "be very sure!"

Anne's eyes were full of dreams. "Oh, I am! So very, very sure!"

There was an unfathomable look in the depths of Eve's dark eyes, a look which Anne did not even notice in her excitement. "Then I'll say bless you darling," Eve said quietly. "Only,—only, Anne, you're such a baby! I hope—I hope you're not letting yourself in for anything like heartbreak!"

THE next day Wayne came dashing into the office, his face aglow, his voice high and excited. "And how is the future Mrs. Wayne McDowell?" he beamed.

Anne saw Lola Chester's eyes growing ever wider behind the thick lenses of her glasses. Jane Thomas stopped in the middle of whatever she was filing, her mouth wide open.

"Sh!" she warned, trying to disengage the hand that Wayne was holding possessively. But he was not to be repressed.

"I won't be shushed, madam! I now take great pleasure in informing you, Miss Chester," with an elaborate bow, "and you, Miss Thomas, and the whole cock-eyed world in general that you see before you the future Mrs. Wayne McDowell! I hope all this meets with your approval, my dears!"

Anne giggled as she saw Lola gulp in astonishment. Then she felt her spine tingle as at the moment she observed Mr. Farham standing in the doorway to his private office. He was not smiling.

"Wayne, is it necessary for you to make so much noise and disturb the workers in my office?" he asked stiffly, then added, "Suppose you and Miss Winslow step inside. There seems to be something we must discuss."

Anne thought in dismay, "I feel just like I did once at school when I was called into the principal's office! It's absurd to feel guilty about this. Mr. Farham's bound to know soon. But I wish Wayne hadn't been so hasty!"

MR. FARHAM took his seat behind the heavy desk and Anne and Wayne stood on the opposite side of it—"like prisoners at the bar of justice," Anne thought. After a moment Wayne lighted a cigarette and sank onto a corner of the desk, as Mr. Farham motioned Anne to the chair in which she sat to take dictation.

"I think I understood correctly that you referred to this young woman as the future Mrs. Wayne McDowell, did I not?"

Wayne had not lost one iota of his easy assurance. He seemed a little amused that Anne appeared flustered. "Right you are. Uncle Nathan! I suppose you're ready to give us your blessing?"

Mr. Farham was silent for a moment, his white brows drawn together, his hands moving mechanically among the papers on his desk. Then suddenly his keen gaze met Anne's and she thought she detected a twinkle in the blue depths of his eyes. And in that moment she knew that whatever the reaction of Wayne's other relatives might be, she had an ally in her employer. He turned now to Wayne.

"I suppose you know she's much too good for you?"

Wayne smiled. "Certainly, sir."

Mr. Farham got up and came around the desk to stand in front of Anne. When she rose he took her hand. "You've been with me how long, Miss Winslow?"

"Almost two years."

Mr. Farham coughed a little nervously. "Shall I tell you what I've thought many times in those two years as I've watched you, my dear?"

"Please do, Mr. Farham."

"I've said to myself—why can't that nephew of mine pick out a girl like that instead of one of the little flibberty- gibbets he runs around with? O course you have my blessing, and good wishes, Anne—and to you, Wayne, heartiest congratulation! Er—my boy—er—have you told your Aunt Edna?"

Wayne put his arm around Anne. "Indeed I have sir. And she has invited us to come to tea at five this afternoon. She wants to lose no time in becoming acquainted with my future wife!"

OCD Material Here Checked By Officials

Work of compiling a list of the OCD equipment which was issued to Warren during the time danger of bombings existed in this country is underway locally. Much of the equipment, such as arm bands, helmets, etc., will undoubtedly never be returned to the state as it is widely scattered. The same applies to the pumps which were issued. Only about one-tenth of the number distributed have been returned to the city building, where they are being stored. The largest items such as fire pumps, hose, ladders, etc., will doubtless all be available as most of that material is stored at the Central Fire Station.

The State Hospital and North Warren fire department is anxious to buy some of this fire fighting material and Burgess Ray Steber is at work on this project. Warren borough will have to make the purchase and in return sell it to the hospital and North Warren. This work is under way at present and will doubtless soon be completed.

Dispatches from Harrisburg are to the effect that some of the $19,000 worth of the defense equipment eventually will be sent to the Netherlands East Indies. Medical supplies, beds and the other material stored through most of the war in the state capitol at Harrisburg is already packed and crated ready for shipment to the South Pacific.

The state received approximately 1,400 of the fire pumps which would have been used in event of emergencies and they are being disposed of directly through Washington.

The OCD in this state has folded up and Monday in the governor's office at Harrisburg ceremonies were held that brought the salvage commission work to a close.

Two Smallest Schools Have Best Record

Two of the school district's smallest buildings, Home and Seneca, were the only ones to reach 100 per cent participation in the October 8 report of war bonds and stamps turned in to the office of Superintendent John G. Rossman.

Total of all buildings for the same period fell far below the average the schools have been maintaining, amounting to $443.30, of which $11.05 was in the high school. School savings totals for the period amounted to $254.83, which, with sales totals brought the grand total to $698.13.

The buildings, with savings, sales and totals, in that order, show the following figures:

Conn Refuses To Sign For Summer Bout

By SID FEDER

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Mike Jacobs is a New Jersey tulip grower with an ambdextrous ability as a fight promoter.

And today he was busy with both hands.

With one, he was shoving a pen into Billy Conn's dainty "Duke," trying to get the Pittsburgh pretty boy to forget his "beefs" and sign on the dotted line for a return go with Joe Louis. With the other, Mike was holding an "auction" over the site of the Louis-Conn nose-mashing.

With this left-handed job, Uncle Make was trying to tell you how the $3,000,000 taffy-pull next June would go to the place "we'll get the most money." He carefully explained how Philadelphia and its huge Municipal Auditorium and Chicago and its wide stretches of Soldier Field were running neck and neck for the big pot, and he was open to all offers.

But around Jacobs' beach, the wild waves were saying that the windy city would have to put up the loop and the city of brotherly love would have to give up Billy Penn from off the top of the City Hall to get this tussle out of Yankee Stadium, N. Y., when post-time rolls 'round.

As for getting Conn to sign up for the fuss, Mike had a session lined up today with the legal member of Billy's fistic family, as a follow-up to the hour-long howling party he had with Billy's manager, Johnny Ray.

Johnny, making hih first New York Aappearance since Billy was belted out by Joe in the 13th round in June 1941, told Mike the contract, as far as he was concerned, was about as valuable as watered oil stock. His chief objection was to the clause that said the late army corporal couldn't have any exhibition or tune-up appearances before the big beak-busting party.

Giants Boast A-1 Shortstop In John Rigney

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Unlike most major league club owners who would like to have the services of Marty Marion, termed the "Mr. Shortstop" of baseball, President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants is not interested in the St. Louis Cardinals' star.

"We're ready to pay any reasonable sum for any player that would help our club," said the Giants boss yesterday, as he escorted a group of writers around the Polo Grounds which is being revamped for next year, "but I believe we are going to come up with a shortstop who in a few years will be every bit as good as Marion."

"His name is John Rigney," continued Stoneham, "and we obtained him from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League in the deal that sent Dolf Camilli to manage the Oaks in 1944. Rigney, at the time, was in the navy, and still is. Next to the return of Johnny Mize, the biggest boost our club could get would be Rigney's release." Mize was recently released.

Stoneham figures that with Mize at first, Rigney at short, Buddy Kerr at third and Mickey Witek back at second base plus a strong outfield headed by Manager Mel Ott, Babe Young, another recent dischargee, and Willard Marshall, now in the marines, all the Giants need to be in the running for the 1946 pennant are two top-flight pitchers and a dependable catcher.

Behind the Lines

(The following letter is written to the editor, but it is being used in this column because of its relationship to athletics and school. We would appreciate the suggestions of all our readers.)

Oct. 17, 1945.
Warren, Pa.

Editor, Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I have been reading with much interest the articles appearing in the Times-Mirror and the Jamestown Post-Journal concerning the incidents of alleged vandalism and hoodlumism supposedly perpetrated during the pep rallies and pre-game demonstrations of the annual Warren-Jamestown football classic.

To me, and to many others who have not forgotten that we were once imbued with the spirit of youth, both papers have committed a "faux pas." I should not permit my anger to burst into heated flame, as I, too, may commit errors in this trade against such powerful weapion as the press. 'Tis not the paper—but the writers of the articles who should be made to make some sort of apology to the subscribers for distorting facts in attempting to write a sensational story.

It would necessitate too much valuable space in your good paper to trace the entire chain of events they unfolded from Thursday evening, October 11, until last night, so I'll not elucidate at length.

From the article published in the Times-Mirror of Friday, October 12, in which many of the incidents were exaggerated, the Post-Journal was motivated to publish the following under the sensational heading: "Students 'Stir' Officials." From the article the following excerpts are gross exaggeration:

(1) "Both cities were the scene of disturbances of riot proportions, with broken plate glass, scattered garbage cans, overturned water hydrants, and general riot-type damage." Where in Warren were any plate glass windows shattered? Would someone please show me the "overturned water hydrants?"

(2) "Police chief G. Harry Nelson said today when informed of the Warren celebration which caused the girl's injury from a piece of flying glass."

It wasn't flying glass—it was a tomato, and I didn't throw it. I took time to investigate.

(3) "A riot detail of Warren police were called out Thursday night and some 15 carloads of Jamestown celebrants were herded out of that borough."

The Warren police department has informed me that "about five carloads" were hailed—and furthre riot squads in Warren police history are myths.

(4) "Main streets were a litter of broken window glass and a water fountain in front of the J. C. Penney store was broken from its foundation. Water gushed from the ruptured pipes and pouded into the basement of the store, damaging a considerable amount of merchandise, before a shut-off could be affected. A one-cent scales was removed from in front of a store building, wrecked and carried several blocks."

In a telephone conversation with Mr. Pettit of the Penny Company, I learned that the facts were "exaggerated slightly." The scales are to be replaced. The mechanism on the fountain was broken. The fountain was not broken from its foundation. No merchandise in the cellar was damaged. Most of the inconvenience was caused by failure of the boiler to function properly.

(5) In Frank Hyde's column appearing in the Post-Journal of Monday, October 15, he states that "windows were smashed and two cars were overturned." As far as I have been able to ascertain, no such occurrences took place in Warren.

(6) From last night's Times-Mirror editorial taken from the Post-Journal: "All the remorse of those who took part in these incidents cannot restore the sight in the eye of the unfortunate girl from Pennsylvania."

The young girl, who was struck by a tomato in Beaty court where the school officials decided the pep rally was to be staged, HAS NOT lost the sight of her eye and the injury is far from as serious as the writers have depicted.

This is not written in an effort to uphold acts of vandalism—far from it. As a law-abiding citizen, I firmly believe that rowdyism should be curbed and offenders dealt with to the full extent of the law. However, I also believe that reporting of such incidents should contain more accuracy—and I think some place in the newspaperman's creed there must be something concerning reporting the facts.

Too many people are gullible—believing everything they read. The papers have done a swell job in disseminating a "sensational story" decidedly unfair upon an unsuspecting public.

This is on expression of my feelings, and I'm positive of numerous others who I have engaged in conversation. It is my sincere desire that this is published and in some way brought to the attention of the Post-Journal.

Very truly yours,
"A citizen".

Elmer Leyden Sees Peculiar Season Ahead

Chicago, Oct. 18—(AP)—Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football League, reviewing the first few weeks of the 1945 season, said today that all 10 teams reported increased season ticket sales. He also asserted, "it may be that we'll see a champion crowned that has lost three games."

"The league is going through a process of war time to postwar adjustment," Layden asserted. "As I see it, the strength of the teams will continue to fluctuate from Sunday to Sunday. Players coming back from service are making their presence felt.

"Not only have all the teams individual strength and ability to knock off top teams, but the balance of power will be shifting. New York, the 1944 eastern champion, already has a tie against its record. Green Bay, the western and league champion, has suffered one defeat. The Chicago Bears, runners-up in the west last season with Detroit, have dropped three games. The Chicago Cardinals, who won no games last year, have won one and are rapidly improving.

"Philadelphia, which won all its non-championship games and was the eastern favorite, has been beaten. Washington, second in the east last year, was beaten in its first game this season by Boston, a club which won only two games in '44.

"This is going to be quite a season before it's over!"

Boxing Promoters Will Back Fights Over Nation

New York, Oct. 18—(AP)—Boxing promoters in seven cities stretching from Boston to St. Louis have joined up in an outfit to "give financial and publicity aid" for fight shows throughout the country, and to foster what the organization announces will be "class A boxing in America."

Larry Atkins, Cleveland promoter and president of the new "Boxing Promoters of America, Inc.," said promoters in Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo (N. Y.), Cleveland and St. Louis have joined the organization.

Football Halted At Forty Fort H. S.

Scranton, Oct. 18—(AP)—Forty Fort High School, near Wilkes-Barre, will play no more football games this season under jurisdiction of District 2, PIAA.

The scholastic athletic group voted last night to suspend Forty Fort from gridiron participation as a result of a riot which followed the Pittston-Forty Fort game last Friday. Three officials were beaten by spectators.

The first "Flying Fortress" was built in 1935.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear wife, Florence Marks Wright, who departed from this life one year ago today, Oct. 18, 1944.

From this world of grief and sorrow
To the land of peace and rest,
God has taken our dear Florence
To a home which is the best,
Days of sorrow still come oer us,
Hidden tears do often flow,
Memory keeps our loved one near us
Tho she died one year ago,
It is lonesome here without you
There is such a vacant space
For we never hear your footsteps
Oer see your smiling face
As we loved you so we miss you
In our memory you are dear
Love remembers long for always
Bringing many a silent tear.
Husband Wallace Bud. Wright
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wright.

in a farmer's barn near Kasugai, 85 miles from Tokyo. The farmer, Kashiro Haibara, said the silver was sent to him from Tokyo to save it from loss during American bombings.

Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese christian leader, urged General MacArthur to divert part of the more than $250,000,000 in government valuables already seized to import food.

Kagawa said if part of the treasure could be used to pay for the importing of rice, salt, raw cotton and other scarce commodities, I believe this could prove to be the greatest thing for the happiness of the Japanese pople."

The fortune in diamonds, totalling 131,000 karats in weight, was found in the Mitsui Trust Company vaults, deposited in the name of a Japanese government Import and Export Control Agency.

Many of the diamonds had been contributed by civilians who were told they were needed for industrial usage.

INVESTIGATING DEATH

Aliquippa, Oct. 18—(AP)—Police today sought for questioning Mrs. Gladys Miller, whose husband, James, 46, was found dead in bed yesterday with jagged cuts about the chin and neck, apparently inflicted by pieces of a broken milk bottle. Dr. Thomas McCreary, a Rochester pathologist, said death was due to acute alcoholism rather than to the wounds.

Prisoners of War Will Be Shipped By Early Springtime

All enemy prisoners of war held in the United States are expected to be on their way to their homelands by early spring providing a source of labor for the reconstruction of the wrecked European cities. The provost marshall of the U. S. Army estimates the number of prisoners held in this country in 1945 was 362,170 Germans and 49,784 Italians along with 5,080 Japanese. This does not include 12,500 prisoners who have been shipped back to Europe since V-E Day.

Most of the prisoners have been employed in various sections of the country. In the south the POW's picked citrus fruits, cotton, cut sugar cane, tobacco and cut pulp wood. In this section the prisoners were engaged in woods work and cut thousands of cords of pulp wood which was converted into paper and roofing.

In the west they harvested sugar beets, corn and grain, picked and packed fruits and vegetables, while in the north and east they cut pulp and chemical wood, harvested and packed fruits and vegetables.

In addition to this work, which was mostly on a contract basis between the government and private agencies, prisoners also worked for the army at bases and camps.

Although paid at the prevailing wage level for civilian workers doing the same type of labor, the prisoners working on private contracts receive only 80 cents a day. They are paid in coupons redeemable for goods at camp canteens.

The remaining money earned by the prisoners is paid to the army and deposited in the treasury.

Through 1944, $22,000,000 was deposited with the treasury. The total of such deposits was $38,000,000 up to June 1, 1945.

In addition the army estimated it saved $152,000,000 in wages by using POW help in camps.

Prisoners are housed in 150 camps located on army bases, and at 300 branch camps set up wherever the prisoners are working.

The POWs housed at bases live in compounds, usually an unused section of the camp's barracks. However the branch camps vary from tents to abandoned schools or buildings in the vicinity of their work.

When they are ready to be shipped home, the POWs are moved into a staging area near their port of embarkation. Then they are loaded in most cases, aboard army transports headed for Europe to bring Americans home.

Together with other prisoners taken after the capitulation of Germany, the POWs will be assigned to various types of reconstruction work in Europe by the manpower division of the Allied control council.

The provost marshal's shipping, lessened needs for POW labor in the United States, and better facilities in the European theater to handle them, the return of all POWs in the United States will be materially stepped up so as to have them all returned by spring.

WHAT IT MEANS

By HERMAN R. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Codes, the old stand-by of the spy thriller, have been top news recently.

First it was disclosed that Japanese Admiral Yamamoto's plane was shot down because American Intelligence had broken a Japanese code. Then a magazine writer declared that we had cracked a Japanese code before Pearl Harbor and could have prevented that disaster.

A code is usually composed of words or jumbled groups of letters or numerals that stand for a word or phrase, or perhaps a whole order. It is distinct from a cipher.

A cipher is composed of individual letters or numerals. Each letter or numeral stands for a single letter.

In one type of code the word "horse" might stand for "battleship," the word "desk" for "cruiser" etc. In another, "battleship" might be represented by "AAAAA" and "cruiser" by "AAAAB." Or you might use numerals—"11111" and "11112" etc.

The disadvantage of a code is that everyone using it has to have a bulky code book, but a good code is virtually unbreakable. The only sure way is to steal a copy of the code book, and they're hard to come by.

None Too Tough

On the other hand, it is generally agreed that no cipher has ever been invented that can't be deciphered—eventually. Users simply hope that by the time an intercepted message is deciphered it will be out of date. The advantage to most ciphers is that the key can be carried in one's head and can easily be changed.

The simplest kind of cipher is the "single substitution." In this you scramble the alphabet so that one letter equals another. No straight single substitution would fool an expert five minutes, however.

He has tables which show what letters occur most frequently. E is most frequent, followed by T, A, O and N.

If L and J occur most frequently in a ciphered message, the cryptographer puts them down as probably equaling E or T, and so on. After a little fitting and trying, words begin to take shape and he can guess at the rest.

The Basis

"Double substitution" ciphers are more baffling. Most of them are based on something called the "Vigenere Tableau," after the Frenchman who invented it several hundred years ago. (See the accompanying chart.)

To use it first select a "key" word or phrase. "Horse," for example. You write your message "in the clear" with the key repeated underneath it. Thus:

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD MEN
HOR SE HOR SEHO RSE HOR SEHO RSE
TO COME TO THE AID OF THE PARTY
HO RSEH OR SEH ORS EH ORS EHORS

Now take the first letter of the message and the first letter of the key. Column N and line H meet at U. That's the first letter of your enciphered message. The message would thus be enciphered:

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD MEN
UCN AW AVV LMTS WGV HZC YSVR DWR
TO COME TO THE AID OF THE PARTY
AC TGQL HF LIL OZV SM HYW THFKQ

Note that under this system E is enciphered as V, S, W and L.

Even so, the Vigenere Tableau, with a short key word, is easy pickings for the trained cryptographer.

With a short keyword there is bound to be some repetition. The cryptographer would conclude that at least W and L represent E.

Using tables of "bigrams" (frequent two-letter combinations) and "trigrams" (three-letters), he could eventually work the problem, but maybe by that time the key would be changed.

(Note: The above is given only as a sample. Usually it is necessary to have a much longer message to make the frequencies work out.)

Almost all modern ciphers are some variety of the Vigenere Tableau. Even the complex ciphering machines stem back to it. There are ways of complicating it almost beyond recognition, but every complication so far invented has been unravelled by methods too tortuous to describe here.

There is another general type of cipher called the "transposition." A simple method would be this:

First write a message as follows—

NW S H TM FR L GO
O I TE IE O AL OD ETC.

Then rewrite the whole thing in groups of five letters:

NWSHT MFRLG OMNOI TEIEO ALODE ETC

Almost any transposition cipher can be solved by looking for bigrams and trigrams formed by lettering occurring at regular intervals.

Another Way

An important problem for the cryptographer is to decide what kind of cipher he is dealing with. A single substitution is marked by appearance of letters in normal frequency as far as numbers go. In double substitution usually no letter will appear many more times than any other. Transposition is marked by normal frequency.

Of course, if the message has been coded, then enciphered by transposition and then re-enciphered by some tableau variation, hte cryptographer would have a long, hard day.

CIO Enters The Rail Labor Field

Philadelphia, Oct. 17—(AP)—The CIO made its first dent in the railroad labor field, the unofficial returns of a National Mediation Board election showed today, when it was named bargaining agent by three groups of Pennsylvania Railroad shop workers.

The CIO-requested election, largest ever held by the board, involved 62,253 employes, 14,383 of which are in the armed forces.

A board spokesman said five PRR groups—machinists, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, carmen and lectricians—voted to retain the Brotherhood of Railroad Shop Crafts of America (independent) as bargaining agent.

A total of 44,704 will be represented by the brotherhood, the spokesman said, and 17,069 by the United Railroad Workers of America (CIO).

The mediator explained that the vote was close in several instances and may be changed when official returns are certified at Washington.

The election was held Aug. 20 to Sept. 20.

BODY OF CHOCOLATE KING IS LAID TO REST

Hershey, Oct. 17—(AP)—The body of Milton S. Hershey rested today in Hershey cemetery beside those of his wife and parents and residents of this community, which he founded, resumed normal activities after a day's suspension of business to pay their last respects to the 88-year-old philanthropist.

Several thousand persons, including Governor and Mrs. Martin attended funeral services yesterday for Hershey at the industrial school he founded in 1909 for orphan boys and which is supported by a foundation fund estimated at $84,000,000.

The Rev. John H. Treder, vicar of all Saints Episcopal church delivered the funeral sermon with pastors of other Hershey churches participating in the services.
